Chimp Survives Trip Into Space

BULLETIN

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—A chimpanzee survived a 420-mile ride over the Atlantic Ocean in a Mercury spacecraft today and is alive and well, it was announced this afternoon.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A chimpanzee rode a rocket 155 miles into space today and dropped into the Atlantic Ocean 420 miles away. There was no immediate report whether the chimp lived through the flight.

However, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington announced that information radioed back by the capsule showed that the chimp performed satisfactorily a number of behaviour tests during the 16-minute trip.

Officials gave no indication of the animal's condition after the capsule hit the water.

An announcement said that a plane had sighted the one-ton, bell-shaped capsule bobbing in the water, 130 miles beyond the target area. It said the nearest ship was about a three-hour journey away.

The distance error by the Redstone booster may mean more long delays in the first launching of an American astronaut.

Space agency officials had said they wanted a perfect performance from the rocket before risking a human life.

When the 83-foot rocket rode away from Cape Canaveral at 11:55 a.m., it was supposed to hoist the capsule to an altitude of 115 miles and deposit it in the ocean 290 miles away. The planned peak speed was 4,200 miles an hour.

The space agency announced that the capsule reached an altitude of 155 miles at a peak velocity of 5,000 miles an hour.

The space agency said that higher than normal booster thrust produced the extra velocity, altitude and range.

Ships raced to attempt recovery of the space chamber and its passenger, a 37¼-pound male primate named simply No. 65.

Main purpose of the flight was to determine whether the chimp could perform tasks under extreme conditions of blastoff and re-entry and during a five-minute period of eerie weightlessness at the top of the arching trajectory. He was trained to conduct lever-pushing behavioral tasks while the capsule zipped through space.

The space chimp wore a nylon suit and was strapped in a pressurized cocoon-like plastic couch which was fastened to the floor of the space capsule. A clear plastic face plate on the couch enabled the ape to see what went on around him.

Only his head and arms were free to move. Electronic devices were attached to the body to measure heart beat, body temperature, respiration and task performance.

House Votes Expansion Of Committee On Rules

Victory For Kennedy But Margin Narrow

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy won his first big congressional victory today when the House voted to expand the Rules Committee.

On a rollcall vote of 217 to 212, it approved a proposal by Speaker Sam Rayburn to enlarge the 12-man rules group to 15 members.

This will add more liberal members to the committee and break the conservative control that had threatened to roadblock House action on Kennedy's liberal legislative program. In close contests, the added members — two of whom will be named by Rayburn — could swing control of the committee from Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) to Rayburn.

On the crucial vote, 22 Republicans voted with 195 Democrats to support the Rules Committee change.

Sixty-four Democrats joined with 148 Republicans against it.

All the Democratic "no" votes came from Southern and Border state representatives.

Smith is chief strategist of a conservative coalition, comprising himself, Rep. William M. Colmer (D-Miss.), and the committee's four Republicans, which in the past has blocked action on some welfare bills

IN BRAZIL TOMORROW

Captain Vows To Free Passengers

RECIFE, Brazil (UPI) — Rebel Capt. Henrique Calvao promised today to sail the hijacked Portuguese liner Santa Maria into the port of Recife tomorrow and free his 620 captive passengers.

He made the announcement in a message of congratulation to new Brazilian president Janio Quadros and said he was acting under unspecified "guarantees" he had received from Quadros.

GOT NOWHERE

A navy statement indicated Smith had got nowhere in trying to arrange either for transferring the passengers, including 42 Americans, to other ships or for arranging an alternate port. The statement said Galvao "refrained from discussing a substitute for offloading the passengers if entry to Recife cannot be arranged."

Galvao did not say what "guarantees" he had received. He seized the 20,906-ton luxury liner a week ago Sunday in a brief fight in which one crewman was killed, and Portugal has denounced his action as piracy and murder.

There were reports earlier Quadros would accept Galvao as the leader of an insurrection against Portuguese Premier Antonio de Oliveiro Salazar and grant him political asylum.

THREE DESTROYERS

The Santa Maria was circling slowly 55 miles at sea while three American destroyers cruised nearby.

After Smith's conference with Galvao, the admiral returned to the U.S. destroyer Gearing at mid-morning and said "the picture is not as definite as all concerned would like it to be."

Two Portuguese newsmen who were the first outsiders to go aboard the Santa Maria reported before Smith's visit the captain was planning to put into Recife tomorrow.

The newsmen, who boarded the liner from a fishing boat, also reported life aboard near normal with passengers strolling on deck.

More Claims Filed Against Caryl Estate

More claims poured in today against the estate of the late Caryl Chessman, convict-author who died in San Quentin gas chamber on May 2 last year.

Rosalie Asher, Sacramento attorney, filed a claim today in the Marin County Clerk's office for $34,862.53, which she says is still owing to her for her legal services rendered between August of 1948 until Chessman's death.

A. L. Wirin, Los Angeles attorney, who also appeared for Chessman, put in a claim for $2,512.45, for expenses incurred in his trips back and forth between Marin and Los Angeles and other expenses.

These two creditors' claims bring the total claims against Chessman's estate to $57,810.

Yesterday, San Francisco attorney George T. Davis filed a claim for $10,000 plus royalties from the convict's book, "The Face of Justice." Davis says he was guaranteed this reimbursement in an agreement made with Chessman in 1955.

On Friday, William J. Linhart, private investigator for Chessman, put in a claim for $10,436 as compensation for his services.

U.S. Attempts To Orbit New 'Spy' Satellite

POINT ARGUELLO (UPI)—The United States today launches a new "watchdog" satellite being developed to keep the free world's eye on the Communist threat around the globe.

The two-ton Samos II (satellite and missile observation system) streaked aloft from this fog-shrouded Pacific missile range base—adjacent to Vandenberg Air Force Base and 170 miles northwest of Los Angeles—at 12:22 p.m.

It was carried by an Atlas D intercontinental missile.

It disappeared in seconds, aimed for polar orbit, some 300 miles above the earth. The Air Force said it would take two or three hours to tell whether the spy moon had entered the north-south orbit as planned.

Samos II, 22 feet long and five feet in diameter, was designed to circle the earth like a giant cigar standing on end—a "business" end containing top secret test photographic equipment.

Scientists said the Samos program was aimed at developing an orbiting space camera so sensitive it could snap detailed pictures of enemy territory even by starlight. In a polar orbit one such satellite eventually could photograph most of the earth's surface.

The Air Force refused to state outright whether Samos II would transmit pictures back to earth. Spokesmen would say only: "We will communicate with it."

Old Sol Peeps At Marin, But May Not Stay Long

The sun peeped at Marin at mid-day today after a storm that gave San Rafael 1.94 inches of rainfall in 24 hours and dropped lesser amounts elsewhere throughout the county.

The Weather Bureau said there was a 40 per cent chance Old Sol might be visible tomorrow. The odds on sunshine Thursday are 3-to-10 forecasters said.

Power went out for 2,500 families in Tamalpais Valley, Almonte, Stinson Beach and Bolinas at 5:05 a.m. today in the only blackout blamed on the storm. Leonard Robertson, electrical superintendent for Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s Marin office, said the failure "apparently was caused by some wires blowing together." Service was restored in 21 minutes, PG&E reported.

Sausalito police stood ready to close Bridgeway Boulevard if a high tide at 10:56 a.m. sent water across the street, but the tide failed to spill over the dike.

Officials of Marin Municipal Water District and North Marin Water District were pleased at the downpour. They pointed out the ground is now thoroughly soaked, so most of the rainfall above reservoirs is captured as runoff.

San Rafael received 1.94 inches of rain in the 24 hours at noon today. The rainfall in the 24 hours to 8 a.m. totaled 1.82 inches at Woodacre, 1.74 at Kent Lake, 1.5 in Santa Venetia, 1.4 at Phoenix Lake, 1.25 in San Anselmo, 1.05 at Lake Lagunitas. Fall at other points in the county ranged downward to .24 of an inch in Tamalpais Valley.

Israel Leader Ben-Gurion Resigns Post

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI)—Premier David Ben-Gurion resigned tonight.

The 74-year-old Israeli leader quit both as prime minister and defense minister.

Ben-Gurion handed his resignation to President Itzhak Ben-Zvi in protest against his party's failure to meet his demand that Pinhas Lavon be removed as secretary general of the Histadrut Labor Federation.

Nursing Home Owners Eye Indigent Problem

Marin County supervisors will be accompanied by nursing home proprietors on a tour of the county hospital and farm Thursday, with the possibility the county may contract for private care of elderly indigents.

The board yesterday agreed to tour the hospital-farm and discuss what is to be done about it starting Thursday at 10 a.m.

The State Bureau of Hospitals has served notice on Marin County that it must correct substandard conditions at the county hospital farm in Lucas Valley. If it does not, the state can enjoin the county from operating the hospital, forcing placement of indigent convalescent patients in private care at county expense. Gordon Cumming, chief of the State Bureau of Hospitals, last week said the state may find it necessary to take this step.

The nursing home representaitves were invited after William Slocum, president of the 10-member Marin County Nursing Home Assn., appeared at yesterday's board of supervisors meeting with a resolution of his group declaring its willingness to study the problem "of providing adequate housing for elderly people . . . who need professional nursing home or rest home care."

"We . . . will individually furnish whatever housing the board of supervisors deem necessary . . . providing the board are willing to pay realistic per capita fees."

At a Jan. 16 board of supervisors meeting, the board was told private nursing homes could care for the elderly indigents at $8.22 per day, compared with county hospital cost of $9.85.

However, Slocum said today that such a low rate could not be continued indefinitely. He said building programs planned by the various nursing home operators are predicated on higher reimbursement from the county.

Fumes In Louisiana Send 50 To Hospital

The gas was released when a Kansas City Southern Pacific Railroad freight train derailed, dumping chemicals into nearby ditches.

U.S. ADMIRAL BOARDS 'PIRATE' SHIP

The motor whaleboat (arrow) of the U. S. destroyer Gearing approaches the rebel-captured Portuguese liner Santa Maria about 50 miles off the coast of Brazil today. The whaleboat carried Rear Adm. Bagley Asks Definition Of 'Scenic Road'

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—A start was made in the State Assembly today toward straightening out confusion about the definition of a "scenic road."

Marin-Sonoma Assemblyman William T. Bagley introduced a resolution requesting the Division of Highways to "undertake a study of and to develop standards for the construction of highways in scenic areas which are designed to preserve the natural and scenic beauty of the areas."

The division would be told to report to the legislature by Jan. 1, 1962. At present there is no definition of what a "scenic road" is or should be.

The resolution is a direct result of the squabble over design for a rerouted Shoreline Highway from Highway 101 to Stinson Beach.

Bagley also introduced a bill which would require supervisors to appoint a citizen commission every 10 years to study changing supervisorial district boundaries. The measure, which got bipartisan support among Bagley's co-authors, requires the supervisors to appoint such a study committee by March 1, 1962, and within a year after each decennial census thereafter.

The committee would make recommendations to the board but they would not be binding. The bill does not provide, although Bagley says he may ammend it, that the supervisors must redistrict every 10 years.

A third Bagley bill, introduced at the request of the department of agriculture, would designate eggnog, sour cream dressing and yogurt as "dairy products," thus bring them under price control.

5 Mill Valley Boys Home After Spree

Five Mill Valley boys were back home yesterday after breaking into Alto school Friday, then going on a three-day escapade in "borrowed" cars to Mendocino County, Mill Valley police reported today.

Three of the boys, who admitted burglary of the school and taking two cars, are to appear at juvenile court on Feb. 9. The boys, one 14, three 13 and one 12, were released to their parents Sunday night after they gave themselves up to Mendocino County sheriff's officers.

Police said one of the boys related that he and three companions left school Friday noon and walked to Corte Madera and back. They met the fifth boy at the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks and went to his house and had dinner.

The boys then went to Alto School, where they broke a window and entered. They took a few cartons of ice cream, some candy and keys to a soft drink machine. They next crossed the street, went about one block and took a 1959 Pontiac.

The boys drove to Novato, where the car got stuck in a side street and was abandoned.

The boys then took a 1955 Oldsmobile which they drove to Santa Rosa. There, the car hit a utility pole, loosening the front bumper, but the boys drove on.

About 80 miles north of Santa Rosa, the boy said, the driver got "hypnotized" and hit the side of a bridge.

They spent the night at Garberville. Saturday they went for a swim in the Eel River, then drove on. About eight miles north of Leggett, they ran out of gas.

The boys then walked to a motel, broke into an unoccupied unit and spent the night there. At 5:30 p.m. Sunday, they gave themselves up to Mendocino County sheriff's officers.

PETTY PROWLERS

Mill Valley Youths Admit Many Thefts

Three Mill Valley youths who admitted breaking into the Top Hat Market last Thursday have also confessed a series of petty thefts and car prowls, Officer Dan Terzich said today.

Several other youths are also involved, he said. Gene E. Williams, Hal McGregor and a 17-year-old, all of Mill Valley, were arrested for the market break-in. Williams and McGregor were jailed for suspicion of burglary and the third boy was taken to juvenile hall.

Terzich said the three, under separate questioning have admitted that, together or separately and with other youths, they: Siphoned gasoline from a car parked in the hillside area of Mill Valley; stole sub caps from a truck near the Mill Valley Tennis Club, and from cars on Mesa Avenue, and Elm Avenue; stole an electric buffer, pads and polish from Brink Mercury Sales at 433 Miller Avenue; stole a tire and wheel from the car of Gary Grant, 62 Shell Road, while it was parked in the Safeway store lot; stole a radiator from the junkyard behind the Larkspur Lumber Co.; stole a used tire and 55 quarts of oil from the Shell service station in Alto; stole torches and gauges from Tamalpais High School, broke into a house at 14 La Verne Avenue, and siphoned gasoline from a car in Tamalpais Valley.

Demos To Meet

The Sausalito Democratic Club will hold an official chartering meeting at 8 p.m. Friday at the home of Mrs. Sally Buckley at 403-B Pine Street. Officers will be elected, Mrs. Buckley said, and refreshments will be served.

Police Chief Favors Active Auxiliary

Mill Valley Police Chief James P. McGowan, told the city council last night that he favors an active auxiliary police force which would have basic continuous training of up to eight hours per month per man.

There are now six active reserve police officers in Mill Valley and 43 officers who are subject to call. They do not take any regular formal training.

McGowan recommended to the councilmen, all five of whom were present, that the city buy blue jackets and hats as uniforms for the reserves.

Councilman George D. Monardo, noted that effective May 1, anyone holding a special police officer's badge automatically resigns with McGowan, who retires on that date.

McGowan suggested that $10 per month be allocated to each regular police officer to help him pay for his uniform. Mill Valley police now receive no uniform allowance.

Brown Asks Restraint In Rental Evictions

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A plea for restraint in evicting people from their homes and in cutting off utilities during the current business slump was voiced by Gov. Edmund G. Brown today.

The governor, bringing up the subject himself, told his news conference that a great many people are being dispossessed and losing their utility services because they can't pay their rent or bills.

He said he was referring specifically to the San Bernardino area but that he intended his appeal to extend statewide.

"As governor," he said, "I want to say that I hope everyone will use restraint in enforcing their legal rights until the national administration can give this recession the assistance I expect it will do."

Brown said he didn't mean that eviction orders should be prolonged, and he offered no suggested time limit. He termed the economic drag "only a temporary thing."

The governor predicted there is "large unemployment" in San Diego but he had no idea of the situation on dispossessions and want there.

The Humboldt-Mendocino area has the highest percentage of jobless, Brown said. But there, he said, the counties have put people to work on public projects.

Brown reiterated that the state stands ready to offer surplus food wherever it is requested by county supervisors.

Supervisors Paul Young and Nancy Smith of San Bernardino met with Brown here yesterday, afterward announced they would recommend that their board accept the offer. The governor estimated it would cost the county $15,000 to $20,000.

Asked what he meant by a great many people being dispossessed in San Bernardino, the governor said he had no figures. He said the board of supervisors reported that people there are unable to pay their rent.

Brown said he had word that the directors of some federal housing projects in San Bernardino have indicated they were going to start evictions.

Coast Guard Gets New Rescue Planes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two new prop-jet planes will enable the Coast Guard here to cut present rescue flight time in half and to remain in an emergency area twice as long, the 12th Coast Guard District reported today.

One Coast Guard crew left Jan. 26 for Elizabeth City, N.C., to take delivery of an SC-130B Hercules prop-jet plane. It will go into service for the Coast Guard station at South San Francisco this week. A second one will be delivered about May 1.

The new plane can circle a search area for seven hours by cutting two of its four prop-jet engines.

The new planes replace R5D type piston-engine planes.

On a mission, the new Hercules can fly 1,000 miles offshore at 320 knots, cruise in the area for 7 hours on two engines at 125 to 150 knots, then restart the two idle engines and return at 300 knots. It carries a crew of eight or nine.

Drops Boy To Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A boy, 17, admitted dropping an 8-year-old boy last night from a hotel roof to his death on the sidewalk five floors below, police reported.

Killed was Christopher Mayfield. Police said Christopher and his brother Brian, 5, were watching television in the hotel lobby when the 17-year-old invited Christopher to go up on the roof to play.

Even the president is forbidden by law to change the decor of the first floor of the White House.

BOARD ORDERS STRICT USE OF VEHICLES

New regulations strictly limiting use of county vehicles were adopted by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

The county school department, however, may not come under the new regulations.

County Administrator Alan Bruce, who drew up the stricter rules after the supervisors expressed dissatisfaction with a set he proposed earlier, said he was told by County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis that the county board of education sets the rules for use of school department cars.

Bruce said he had been advised by the county counsel that this interpretation was incorrect.

The supervisors instructed him to get a copy of the board of education's rules, so they can be compared with the new set.

Three Men Fined As Drunk Drivers

Three men were fined and put on probation yesterday for their first drunken driving offenses.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court gave Warren Schulthess, 32, of 1320 Leafwood Court, Novato, and Fred C. Dern, 24, of 629 Main Street, Sausalito, identical sentences. They must pay a $210 fine each, and remain on six months probation.

Schulthess was arrested near Black Point cutoff last Saturday; Dern on Tiburon Boulevard, on Saturday.

Joseph Bayer Loewy, 30, of 158 Park Street, San Rafael, drew a $184 fine and nine months probation for driving while intoxicated on Highway 101 in Novato last Saturday.

Hearing Continued

The Mill Valley City Council will continue its hearing on the north ridge master plan tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the city hall. There will also be a hearing on the marshland land use plan and circulation plan.

Suit Against Ex-Sheriff Winding Up

Should the sheriff be liable for $10,000 damages because the wrong man was booked on a rape suspicion, then released 25 hours later?

This question was laid before a jury of nine women and three men today, as a false arrest suit wound up this afternoon in a week-long trial before Marin Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

William Donald Johnson, 24, of San Anselmo was arrested on March 3, 1958, on suspicion that he had attacked a Mill Valley woman, aged 37, near the Fireside Cafe.

David Menary, who was sheriff at that time, and his inspector, Carl Sears, arrested Johnson when the victim identified his picture and picked him from a lineup. Johnson asked for and passed a lie test. The next day, the woman heard Johnson's voice and decided he was not the man.

Johnson, represented by San Francisco attorney Paul Friedman, sued former Sheriff Menary, Chief Criminal Deputy Ellis Seibert and Inspector Sears for $10,000 general damages and $5,000 exemplary damages. During the trial, attorney Friedman withdrew the $5,000 claim because he said he feels the sheriff did not act maliciously.

Douglas Phillips of San Francisco is defending the former sheriff and his men. Phillips argued that the sheriff had reasonable grounds for arrest when the victim made positive identification.

Johnson's attorney contends that the sheriff and his men should have let Johnson speak a few words at the first lineup and this would have cleared him.

Named Treasurer

James C. Scripture of Scripture Oldsmobile in San Rafael was elected treasurer of the Northern California Motor Car Dealers Assn. yesterday. Jack M. Roth of John Roth Chevrolet of Merced was chosen president.

'Fire Bugs' Hit Car Stuck In Mud

"Fire bugs" set fire to a car that was stuck in mud on North San Pedro Road near Santa Venetia last evening.

Dennis C. Murphy, 18, of 79 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, told Deputy Sheriff Douglas Gledhill his 1946 auto got stuck in mud near the archery range last Saturday. He left the car there until he could get help to tow it out.

Last evening, he went back to his car and found it aflame. Deputy Gledhill said the car appears to be a total loss.

Witnesses told officers they saw two men leaving the scene of the fire.

Public Works Board Approves Two Projects

SACRAMENTO — The California Public Works Board yesterday approved two small construction projects for state parks in Marin County.

A $19,000 ranger's residence will be built at Tomales State Park, and a $6,500 sanitary facility installed at Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

County Board Approves Schools' Aide Overtime

The Marin County Board of Supervisors somewhat grudgingly yesterday gave County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis its approval of paying overtime to an assistant school superintendent.

The approval was unanimous, although several of the supervisors objected that it was "none of our business" because no county tax funds were involved.

The assistant superintendent is Rudolph S. Kupfer, who is Hollis's assistant in charge of business and finance, who receives $11,160 per year from county funds.

Hollis told the board of supervisors that the county board of education had approved in principle the payment of overtime to Kupfer from the county school service fund—which is not under jurisdiction of the board of supervisors. He asked that the supervisors approve also.

Hollis proposes to pay Kupfer overtime to bring his pay up to $13,333—the same as received by Asst. Supt. Richard H. Hinze.

At a county board of education meeting on Jan. 16, Asst. County Counsel Douglas Maloney pointed out there is no provision for overtime pay in the contracts of school administrators and teachers. The board of education members at that time told Hollis to present some proposed solution to them at their February meeting.

ACTION ON TAXES

Property taxes in Marin County have increased over 120% in five years. This confiscatory trend with minor limitations under present tax laws is causing concern.

Your Marin County Taxpayers Association is recommending that an ordinance be passed so that not more than 25% of the gross tax levies of the county (including schools and special districts) exclusive of bond redemption and interest may be raised by real and personal property taxes. A gross transaction tax of not over 2½% would be one fair way. Undoubtedly there are many other equitable methods to accomplish the desired aim of spreading taxes more evenly among all citizens of the county.

We believe this would make it possible for thousands of people working in Marin but living and spending their earnings outside to live here. It would create a demand for new homes. It would definitely stop businesses from moving out of the county because of unbearable high property taxes. It would bring new business and industry to the county and save home owners, farmers and businessmen approximately one half of the present taxes they are paying.

The power to tax is the power to destroy. We urge all voters to help keep this power in your own hands for your own future welfare and that of your children.

In unity there is strength. Now is the time for you to become actively associated with your Marin County Taxpayers Association.

Miss Thompson also was a lecturer and radio commentator on political subjects.

DOROTHY THOMPSON
Heart attack fatal

Born in Lancaster, N. Y., in 1894, Miss Thompson began her writing career in Britain after working as an organizer for the woman suffrage campaign, an advertising copy writer and a social worker.

She arrived in Britain at the time the revolt broke out in Ireland. She sold a series of reports on the war and with the money went to Paris, where she obtained feature assignments from British and American newspapers.

In 1936, she began writing a political column for the New York Herald Tribune syndicate, and a year later she started writing a monthly column for the Ladies' Home Journal.

She divorced Lewis in 1941 after many prolonged separations.

More Home Building Seen This Year

CHICAGO (UPI) — A home building expert predicted yesterday the industry will begin bouncing back this year after a slump in 1960.

John M. Dickerman, executive vice president of the National Assn. of Home Builders, told his organization's 17th annual meeting that builders expect to construct slightly more than the 1,250,000 new homes erected in 1960.

The 1960 home building total was 20 per cent below the 1959 level.

More than 32,000 home builders, manufacturers and real estate editors turned up to attend general meetings and seminars and to view new building products of more than 500 manufacturers.

Dickerman predicted that the increase in new home starts in 1961 will be more substantial if the general economic picture brightens by at least late spring. He said the prospects for home building during the 60's as a whole look far brighter.

Residential construction in the decade is likely to add up to 230 million dollars, he predicted.

Dickerman foresaw a growing emphasis during 1961 on home construction for families in the low and medium income brackets. He said the builders economic council of the NAHB planned a 32 per cent increase in homes in the $10,000-$12,000 class.

As another promising factor in the 1961 picture, Dickerman cited the greater activity anticipated in the trade-in house market.

"Many families owning used homes are likely customers for new ones," he said.

Study Shows Compact Cars Less Popular

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A survey released here today indicated that American-made compact cars will account for one-third of U. S. auto sales this year—but there may be a swing back to standard sized autos by 1963.

The return to favor of "standards" would result from some compact buyers finding that they miss the comfort of larger cars or are disappointed in the small difference in cost and operating expenses of the compacts, according to the canvass.

The survey was released at the 44th National Auto Dealers convention here. It was made by Universal CIT Credit Corp., the nation's largest independent auto finance company.

Most of the 700 dealers surveyed a drop in total car sales this year to 5.75 million from the 6.1 million sold in 1959. However, Ford Vice President Lee A. Iacocca told the convention yesterday there is "more spendable income around than ever in our history."

He said some people are holding onto their pocketbooks—but "these same pocketbooks are loaded."

Iacocca said that while there there was a lot of talk about buyers wanting inexpensive transportation, actual sales of Falcon showed most buyers "do not want austerity."

Fire Row Settled

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — Fire Chief George Magee and the majority of the city's fire department have settled their differences amicably, according to Asst. City Manager Kent Bathurst.

A petition filed last week by 33 of the department's 43-man force threatened to leave Santa Rosa without fire protection unless the chief resigned. Bathurst scheduled a meeting for yesterday but a truce was reached during the weekend. Magee is still fire chief and no resignation is in sight, Bathurst said.

Pre-Paid Plan For Health Aid Is Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The governor's committee on medical aid and health said today that prepaid health programs appear to be the best way to provide comprehensive medical care to the state's rapidly growing population.

The report, submitted today to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, recommended that prepaid plans be brought within the reach of persons such as the aged and the chronically ill not currently employed.

A study to investigate the various problems of financing a minimum of such health service for the entire population was the citizens' committee's recommendation. Administration of the programs would be local with standards set by the state.

ON PENALTIES

Mosk Urges Tough Plan On Narcotics

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk today proposed a 10-point program "to strike at the heart of the state's narcotics problem" with tougher penalties and added legal weapons for police.

Mosk's program urged expanded treatment facilities for addicts and more aggressive action by the federal government to help stop illicit drug traffic from Mexico.

He said he also will ask the legislature for new laws in the civil rights and anti-trust fields.

The state's top law officer warned legislators against extreme laws in narcotics cases.

He said if penalties become too tough, juries will hesitate to convict because they might feel the sentence would be too severe for the crime.

Mosk said in an interview he opposed broad police powers to get evidence through illegal methods in narcotics cases.

"It is just a sound principle to say law enforcement officers cannot break the law while they are enforcing it," he stated.

However, Mosk said he would seek modification of rules of evidence to give officers a virtual free hand in searching automobiles where narcotics violations are suspected.

"There is no reason to give autos the same sanctity as we do the person or the home," Mosk said. He added that with the ability to subject autos to "reasonable checks," narcotics agents could easily end much narcotics traffic.

Congress Due Message On 'Recovery'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy will send Congress a special message Thursday on his recommendations for "economic recovery and growth," Democratic congressional leaders disclosed.

He will send a second message to Congress next Monday on the balance of payments problem and the drain of gold from the United States to foreign countries.

The first items on the Kennedy timetable of legislative recommendations were reported by Speaker Sam Rayburn after House and Senate Democratic leaders held the second of their weekly legislative conferences with the president at the White House.

Labor's Jobless Bills Go To Legislature

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Labor's major program for increasing unemployment benefits was before the legislature today.

A series of bills, sponsored by the state AFL-CIO, was introduced yesterday by Assemblyman A. Munnell (D-Montebello) and Edward E. Elliott (D-Los Angeles).

They would boost benefits by increasing maximum weekly unemployment pay from $55 to $70 and adding $5 a week for each dependent up to $25. They also would extend the payments for a maximum of 39 weeks.

Under present law, unemployment benefits are paid for a maximum of 26 weeks during normal times. When unemployment in the state averages 6 per cent or more in a quarter, however, up to 13 weeks extra are paid.

Still another change proposed by Munnell would eliminate the requirement that a jobless worker has to look for a job before he is eligible for benefits.

And another would increase the amount paid by employers to support the program.

Employers now are required to pay .3 to 3 per cent on the first $3,600 of each employee's salary. The percentage varies with the unemployment experience of each company.

Munnel's bill would require all employees to pay the maximur 3 per cent.

Costs of the increased benefits not covered by the boosted employer tax would come from the unemployment insurance fund, which is expected to drop from 800 million dollars to about 600 million because of the heavy unemployment this year.

Honeymoon Wanes As GOP Puts Brakes On Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any chance President John F. Kennedy may have had for a congressional honeymoon vanished today as Republicans maneuvered to slow down a program he said was needed to reverse an economic slowdown.

With some conservative exceptions, Democrats called Kennedy's State of the Union message a realistic challenge to the American people to face up to their problems at home and abroad.

Influential Republicans took sharp issue with the president's contention that the U.S. economy was in serious trouble and needed immediate corrective measures.

Other GOP members objected strenuously to what they called Kennedy's "down-grading" of America's position in the world. Others accused the president of injecting partisanship into the blueprint he drew for the critical days he saw ahead.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate GOP leader, signalled a slowdown by calling for extensive committee hearings on most of the proposals Kennedy said he would submit to Congress in the next two weeks. Dirksen said that if they could Republicans would see that there would be "no ill-digested stuff rushed through Congress."

The Illinois senator said that if Kennedy's recommendations for a food for peace program, establishment of a peace corps and a conservation corps and aid for distressed areas all were accepted by Congress, budget balancing would go down the drain.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky), Republican national chairman, said Kennedy's address, delivered to a joint session of Congress Monday, "echoes the cynical brashness" of his presidential campaign.

"At the same time," Morton said, the speech "blends it with timidity and excessive caution."

Morton said there was no need for America "to face the world at large with a national countenance steeped in gloom and doubt."

Kennedy Changes Time For News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy today shifted the time of his news conference tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. EST.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the change was made because Kennedy has scheduled a meeting of the National Security Council for 10 a.m.

SPACE UNIT HEAD—James Webb, 54, has been appointed new chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. He once was president of Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., and was responsible for planning and organization inside the firm which has holdings in uranium. More recently he was president of Educational Services, Inc., of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and was a member of the foreign aid advisory committee in the Eisenhower administration. Soviet Envoy Summoned For Kennedy Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy today summoned the U.S. ambassador to Russia back to Washington for consultation on all aspects of Soviet-American relations.

Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson is expected to arrive here by Monday, the White House announced.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger issued this statement:

"The president has requested Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to return for consultation on all aspects of Soviet-American relations.

"The president and the secretary of state are interested in having at first-hand Ambassador Thompson's observations and reports on the Soviet scene."

Education Board In San Rafael Eyes New Budget

The San Rafael Board of Education gots its first look at a preliminary general purpose budget estimate for 1961-62 last night and decided to study cutting transportation costs, increasing teachers' salaries, and possibly raising the tax rate.

Preliminary figures submitted by Supt. Frank L. Lucas indicated a $1,401,300 budget for the high school district and $1,544,800 for the elementary school district, covering general operations but not special funds and debt retirement.

Last year's budgets covering the items included in the estimates last night were $1,309,594 for the high school district and $1,463,493 for the elemeentary district.

The total budgets for the current fiscal year including general purpose, retirement and community services, loan repayments and bond interest and redemption, for the current year amount to $1,627,218 for the high school district and $1,856,647 for the elementary district.

The high school general purpose budget proposed for 1961-62 is $32,700 below estimated income, but represents a $91,706 jump over the current year's budget.

In the elementary school district, the preliminary general purpose budget is $19,300 above the estimated income. It is $81,307 above this year's budget—but $56,783 below the actual cost estimate for this year.

Two main problems facing the districts in 1961-62, according to Asst. Supt. Raymond Simpson, are possible loss of $58,000 if federal allotment for students whose parents are in federal employ is not renewed, and a $44,000 cut in state equalization funds because the State Board of Equalization held Marin property appraisals for this year were slightly lower than the state average in relation to actual values.

Simpson told the board members, who held their two and one-half hour meeting as a committee of the whole, that the "loss" can be regained by levying an overide tax.

Simpson said that, under a 1959 law, the two San Rafael districts could levy in access of the legal limit approved by voters to make up the $44,000 state aid deficit. This would require about four cents over the $1.65 limit in the elementary district and three cents over the $1.25 limit in the high school district. Board members, however, looked askance at such an idea.

Increasing the elementary district general purpose tax rate from $1.65 to its maximum of $1.75 would raise about $54,000, Simpson noted.

Not included in the preliminary estimates were pay raises, higher transportation costs, expenditures on San Quentin School, increased utilities costs, opening of the new Laurel Dell Intermediate School and the district's share for participation in federal aid science programs.

Increased preliminary estimate for the elementary school is due mainly to salary increases under the present scale at $25,680; hiring two and one-half more teachers for $15,000 and adding a new janitor and groundsman for $8,000.

The income brought into the district by annexation of the San Quentin Elementary School District last year was not included in the budget because the increased tax revenue ($13,000) and state aid ($5,600) will just about pay for adding the San Quentin pupils.

Main increases in the preliminary high school estimates include $19,680 for salary increments, hiring of 14 teachers for $86,800, adding a clerk at Terra Linda High School at $3,000; hiring a janitor and parttime groundsman for $4000; $6,000 increase in counseling and guidance program.

The board asked the superintendent to prepare a detailed cost savings estimate if school bus schedules were shortened. At present they are three-quarters of a mile for kindergarten to third grade; one and one-half miles for fourth to eighth grades and three miles for high school students.

Lucas suggested that the board study the feasibility of increasing teacher salary schedules. Most of the board agreed that this was overdue especially at the beginning salary of $4,500.

Lucas told the members that a $200 across-the-board salary increase for the 230 fulltime teachers in both districts would cost $49,800 — $22,800 in the high school district and $27,000 in the elementary district.

Board approval of the tentative budget is scheduled for June 13. The publication budget, on which public hearings will be held, is to be filed by July 20.

2nd White Boy Attends School In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—An 8-year-old white boy joined his brother at integrated McDonogh No. 19 school today and widened the crack in the 10-week-old boycott.

Michael Thompson was bedded down with asthma yesterday and Friday when his brother Gregory, 9, began sole defiance of jeering neighborhood parents.

U.S. deputy marshals drove the Thompson children to the school where about 25 persons —mostly women—stood quietly looking on today from across the street.

A short time later, marshals accompanied the three Negro first grade girls to McDonogh.

Problems mounted at home for the boy's father, John N. Thompson, 33, a drug store employee with six children.

Margaret Lezina, Thompson's landlady, yesterday ordered him to vacate his apartment next week when next month's rent is due. She said she is nervous and doesn't want any disturbance in the neighborhood.

But Thompson said he didn't think Mrs. Lezina could make him move.

An estimated 35 men and women jeered when federal marshals took Gregory to McDonogh where three Negro first-grade girls are pupils.

Colonel In Poaching Case Is Giving Up

A reserve Air Force colonel, who fought a poaching charge before a jury and appealed the conviction to the appellate department of Marin Superior Court, has apparently tossed in the towel.

Col. James B. Morehead, 44, of Petaluma, notified Marin Superior Court yesterday that he will abandon his motion of appeal.

This means the colonel must pay a $350 fine and lose his hunting privileges for two years, as ordered by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court on Jan. 12.

Until yesterday, the colonel had shown all indications of carrying on the fight in the higher court with the same determination that he had fought his case before the lower court jury. At that time, he acted as his own lawyer and vigorously denied he had been guilty of poaching on the Silveira Ranch last Sept. 13.

Colonel Morehead even had Charles Finn, one of the famed fighting Finn twins, as his legal adviser during the trial.

A jury convicted him of Fish and Game Code violations including possessing a loaded rifle on a public highway, failure to exhibit deer in his possession, failure to retain the skin and head, and failure to tag the deer.

Dental Examinations Being Offered Free

Free dental examinations for pre-school and school age children are being offered during National Children's Dental Health Week, it was announced today.

Children, accompanied by one of their parents, will be examined at the Marin County Health Department, 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, between 1 and 4:30 p.m. next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The examinations are sponsored by the Health department and the Marin County Dental Society.

SAFETY BELT HELPS AS CAR LEAVES ROAD

A tightly buckled safety belt was credited with saving a Marin County driver when his big sedan catapulted off the Redwood Highway and over a 15-foot embankment early today.

Morrill Newton Farr of 20 Summer Avenue, Fairfax, a construction worker, was southbound entering San Rafael at 3:30 a.m. just north of the Linden Lane underpass when his car plunged off the road to the railway cut west of the highway. The car was totally wrecked.

Farr said he believed a tire blew to throw the car out of control. He said he habitually uses a safety belt and that it held him firm.

$900 In Hand For Study Of Incorporation

The Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council's committee on incorporation has $900 committed toward cost of the study, it was announced at a meeting last night.

The press was not invited to the meeting, which spokesman William H. Rafter said was an organizational one. Gilbert B. Darroch, council vice chairman, was elected chairman of the incorporation study committee.

Rafter said the committee plans to confer with the research conslutant firm of Louis J. Kroeger, regarding the proposed survey. The committee previously had heard a report from William R. Zion and Associates.

"We feel we are in a position to start on the study with our $900. We have not yet canvassed local businesses or the property owners associations," Rafter said.

At the meeting were Howard G. Rowebottom, Paradise Drive Property Owners Assn.; Harold B. Reid, Peninsula developer; Lawrence Haman, Belveron Property Owners Assn.; Lee C. Megan and Fred C. Hannahs, Tiburon Property Owners Assn.; Stephen H. Kaufmann, Strawberry Recreation District and Mrs. Margaret Phillips, Bayview Heights Property Owners Assn.

Banquet Set As 1st Boy Scout Event

Marin County Boy Scout Council will kick off events of Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7-13, with its annual Eagle Scout banquet on the opening evening.

The banquet, honoring boys who have achieved the coveted Eagle Scout rank, is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on Feb. 7 at Bob's of Marin, Corte Madera. Marin leaders in all walks of life are being invited.

The Air Force, which is going all-out in support of scouting, will be well represented at the dinner. Maj. Gen. John E. Stevenson, commander of 28th Air Division-SAGE, will be the speaker. Col. Harvey E. Henderson, Hamilton Air Force Base commander, is banquet chairman.

Each Eagle Scout will be the guest of a sponsor. A committee headed by Roy Michael of San Rafael is now obtaining sponsors for the youths. "Only one boy out of a hundred achieves the rank of Eagle Scout, and we're looking for sponsors of like caliber," said Colonel Henderson.

William Lee of Novato is vice chairman of the affair. Ford J. Mosberg of San Anselmo is in charge of arrangements; Philip Hiaring of San Anselmo, publicity, and Lt. Col. William Palmer of Hamilton Air Force Base, program.

Chamber Meeting Bars Newsmen

BERKELEY (AP) — Newsmen were barred from a meeting of the California Chamber of Commerce today.

"The presence of reporters might tend to inhibit speakers," said Robert A. Hornby of San Francisco, chamber president.

Subject of the meeting was "Economic Education in Our Colleges."

One newsman said he learned the talks would revolve around a survey in eastern states on whether economics should be a required college subject.

He said he gathered the gist of the survey was that most students know very little about economics.

Two Events Set For Bleacher Fund

A rummage sale and student car wash service will be held Saturday at the Nave Shopping Center as a benefit for the Novato Bleacher Club.

The organization is attempting to raise funds to construct 3,500 bleacher seats on the Novato High School football field. Each seat will cost about $10.

The rummage sale in a vacant store at the shopping center will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and during the same hours Feb. 8-11 to sell and accept donations. The sale will be directed by Mrs. H. D. Farmer of Novato.

High school students will wash cars for the price of two tickets to the club-sponsored dance at the high school Feb. 11. Funds from the dance will go toward the bleachers.

RULES

like those on Kennedy's priority list.

Although Kennedy forces carried today's vote, the narrow margin appeared to foretell a hard, rocky road ahead for much of the Kennedy program. Even with the rules blockade broken, the president may have trouble mustering the majorities he must have in the House.

Both Rayburn and Kennedy put their prestige on the line in the bitter fight that has embroiled the House since Jan. 3, opening day of the 87th Congress. All other House business has been at a standstill awaiting settlement of the issue.

The Rules Committee, a House "traffic cop," controls the flow of legislation from other committees to the House floor. In recent years it has divided sometimes 6 to 6 on some social, welfare, and economic measures of the kind Kennedy outlined to the Congress in his first State of the Union address yesterday. On a tie vote, clearance is denied.

Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera) voted for the Rayburn proposal.

'Crackers Used In Phone Booths

Vandals dropped home-made firecrackers into two telephone booths in San Rafael last night and today.

Police said the first firecracker exploded in the coin return of a booth at 421 D Street. It demolished the telephone instrument, but failed to dislodge the coin box cover. At 7:10 a.m., a fizzled firecracker was found in a booth at Fifth Avenue and E Street. It had burned half way down without exploding.

OBITUARIES

Structural Engineer John J. Gould Dies

John J. Gould, structural engineer for many projects in San Francisco and resident of Ross for the last 12 years, died of a heart attack yesterday on a San Francisco street near his office.

Gould, 62, collapsed during the noon hour on Bush Street, a short distance from his office, Gould and Degenkolb, at 149 California Street.

He had designed the structure for buildings including Parkmerced Towers, International Building and Fireman's Fund Insurance Building in San Francisco. He also designed the construction of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. toll buildings in San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose, and parking garages including St. Mary's Square and the Civic Center in San Francisco.

From 1933 to 1935, Gould was senior structural engineer of the state division of architecture, and was in charge of reviewing plans for earthquake resistant school buildings immediately after passage of the Field Act.

In 1935 he became chief of the structural engineering division of the San Francisco World Fair on Treasure Island. In 1940 he went into private practice as a consulting engineer and in 1956 formed a partnership with H. J. Degenkolb.

Gould was born in Zurich, Switzerland, and was graduated from the Engineering School of Zurich. As a young man he worked for various engineering and contracting firms in Switzerland, France, Germany and the Middle East.

He came to the United States in 1923, and worked in New York on building projects for two years before moving to San Francisco.

He was a past president of the Structural Engineers Assn. of Northern California and a former director of Consulting Engineers Assn. of California. Also he was a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, Seismological Society of America, American Concrete Institute, American Society of Testing Materials and Society of American Military Engineers.

Gould is survived by his wife, Helen, at the family home at 126 Poplar Drive, Ross, and a son, Richard B. Gould of Novato. He is survived by three grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross. Inurnment also will be private, directed by Keaton's Mortuary.

Lewis M. King, 58, medical technical assistant at the San Quentin Prison hospital, collapsed and died at 8 a.m. today as he was reporting for work in the hospital. Death was believed caused by a heart attack.

King began working at San Quentin in November, 1952, two years after arriving in California. He was a native of Hickory Point, Tenn.

He resided at 708 Midway Avenue, Colma, with his wife, Clara.

King served in the Navy for two periods as a chief pharmacist's mate. His first hitch was after World War I, 1919-1924, and his second term was during the Second World War, 1942-1945.

LOUISE P. DUNCAN

Funeral services for Mrs. Louise P. Duncan, 85, Marin County resident for the past 15 years and long-time resident of Santa Rosa, will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Mrs. Duncain died Saturday in a local hospital after a long illness. She was a member of the Sausalito Presbyterian Church and resided with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ella B. Pressley, at 11 Central Avenue, Sausalito.

Child Beating Charge Dismissed

Aaron H. Craig of 590 Midway Drive, Novato, who struck his 15-year-old son two weeks ago, will not be held on criminal charges.

Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino today recommended that the case be dismissed because investigation showed the father was merely trying to discipline the youth. The Marin Municipal judge concurred.

The boy has been a problem and is being held by juvenile authorities for a detention hearing, said Vallarino. He said he also talked to Mrs. Craig, who is also in favor of dismissing the action against Craig.

Alert Issued For Vanished Trusties

A statewide alert has been issued for two Marin County Jail trusties, who vanished with $64 from the sheriff's civil department and a car from the courthouse parking lot Sunday.

Judge Harold J. Haley issued a warrant of arrest for William S. Agnew Jr. and Boyd J. Griffith, 23. Bail is set at $5,250 each.

COULD GET $5,000 FINE

Marin Cook, 24, Due To Plea In Bigamy Case

A 24-year-old Marin cook was scheduled to enter a plea to a bigamy charge this afternoon in Marin County Municipal Court.

Laurell Allen Forwood, a native of Bombay, India, who gave his address as 80 Summers Avenue, Novato, is accused of marrying wife No. 2 a month before wife No. 1 was granted an interlocutory degree of divorce.

Ellen McNinch Forwood of 814 B Street, San Rafael, signed a bigamy complaint against Forwood. She claims he was already married to Marlyn Forwood of 34 Bayview Avenue, San Rafael, when he married her.

If convicted, Forwood faces a $5,000 fine or up to 10 years in state prison.

San Rafael police, the probation office and the district attorney's office pieced together this from the two Mrs. Forwoods.

Forwood married Marlyn in Nov., 1956. On March 25, 1959, Marlyn charged him with failure to provide for their two daughters, then age eight months and 18 months. Less than a month later, Forwood and Ellen (wife No. 2) were married by a justice of the peace in Winnemucca, Nev. The second Mrs. Forwood had three children from two previous marriages.

The first Mrs. Forwood was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce in May, 1959, with the decree to become final on June 13, 1960.

Forwood was arrested for failure to provide for his first wife and children on May 29, 1959 and convicted. He was put on three years probation.

On Aug. 3, he was ordered to serve 20 days in the county jail on weekends for passing bad checks.

During his jail term he was charged and convicted of smuggling liquor into the jail. In November he was sentenced to six months in jail for that offense.

One month after he was released, Forwood was taken to court by the probation department for failing to report, failing to make restitution on the checks and drinking. He was sentenced to 60 days in jail.

Last Monday, Forwood was again taken to court by probation officials and ordered to spend five days in jail. Then came the bigamy charge.

Fund Ruled Out For 'Straw Vote'

An "advisory election" to guide the Marin County Board of Supervisors about the future of the Civic Center could not be conducted at county expense, the county counsel told the board yesterday.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire sent in an opinion holding that it would be "an illegal use of county funds" to pay for a straw vote, reinforcing an April, 1959, ruling to the same effect by his predecessor, Leland H. Jordan.

The supervisors, said McGuire, could be held personally liable for any such action. The supervisors, he said, themselves have the responsibility for deciding on such matters as the civic center and they have no right to spend county money asking taxpayers' advice.

Chairman William D. Fusselman has been advocating a straw vote pair for privately. "This was to be a voluntary thing so far as I was concerned," said he. "If a group of citizens want to do it they should."

County Clerk George S. Jones had asked for McGuire's ruling and he was blunt as to why.

"I brought the question up," said Jones, "and I'd told inquirers I wouldn't turn a wheel about an advisory election until I knew the money was available."

Lagoon Development Road Tie-In Passed

The Novato Planning Commission last night agreed on a series of recommendations on Bel Marin Keys, including positioning of a tie-in to a future San Jose Boulevard, to be submitted to the County Planning Commission.

The County Commission will hold a hearing on the lagoon-type development next Monday. Because of its being adjacent to the city of Novato, city planners recommended that the area's principal road should tie into the future San Jose Boulevard interchange, planned as a future primary city street.

Bel Marin Keys consists of 212 acres of land just north of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Novato planning commissioners also asked that, prior to filing of a final map for the subdivision, plans for development of the road should go to the city planning commission for study and possible recommendations.

The city group agreed that the flat area of each lot should not be less than 62½ by 106 feet, total area for lots fronting on the water should not be less than 62½ feet by 160 feet, minimum distance between buildings across proposed streets should not be less than 85 feet, and adaquate playground and park areas should be set aside.

Associated Democrats To Meet Tomorrow

Long-range planning and permanent organization will be the first order of business at the organization meeting of the Marin Associated Democrats at 8:00 p.m. tomorrow at Democratic Headquarters, 1203 Third Street, San Rafael.

The planning committee will submit proposed bylaws, and a nominating committee will be selected.

Rain Doesn't Deter Driver, But Jail Does

A Sonoma ranch hand who drove through Marin County traffic at an estimated 95 miles per hour in the rain landed in the county jail yesterday afternoon after a Highway 101 traffic light brought him to a halt.

California Highway Patrolman J. H. Kendricks was approaching Black Point on Atherton Avenue near Novato at 5 p.m. when he saw a car driven by William H. Brown, who workqs on the Bouverie Ranch in Sonoma County, going west on Highway 37 at high speed.

Kendricks said he reached 100 miles an hour and wasn't gaining on Brown, who was 300 to 400 yards ahead and passing other westbound cars on both right and left sides in the drenching downpour.

Suspect In Mill Valley Slaying Pleads Innocent

Confessed Mill Valley slayer Luis S. Aldeguer pleaded innocent in Marin County Municipal Court yesterday to charges of murder and attempted murder.

The 37-year-old former taxi driver is accused of stabbing his estranged wife, Ruth, 20 times and fatally knifing another taxi driver, James Roger Collins Jr., 38, at his wife's home at 10 Plymouth Circle, Mill Valley, on Jan. 21.

Judge Harold J. Haley yesterday appointed Public Defender Peter Allen Smith to represent Aldeguer and continued the matter until this afternoon to set a date for a preliminary hearing.

However, Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden Roth said the district attorney's office will seek a grand jury indictment against Aldeguer "at the earliest possible date." This would eliminate a preliminary hearing.

Judge Haley took under advisement until this afternoon a request by Smith to set bail for Aldeguer.

Aldeguer was arrested in Los Angeles Friday. He told police intense jealousy led him to stab his wife and Collins.

Waterways Frozen

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Despite a warming trend over much of the nation the past two days, the grip of prolonged frigid temperatures is threatening to choke off traffic on major waterways in the Midwest and Northeast.

Inland waterways from the Mississippi to the Hudson were caught in the tightening stranglehold of ice as the cold spell entered its 13th day for many areas.

SUPERVISORS ROUNDUP

Audubon Society Presses For Lease

The Audubon Society would like its long-delayed lease of Richardson Bay waters for a wild bird refuge, the San Francisco law firm of Chickering and Gregory wrote the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

The letter said the society was aware that such a lease would be subject to conditions under which Marin County acquired East, Middle, Brickyard and Oyster Canals from the state but "because we feel we will be able to work in close cooperation with the City of Belvedere and the county, we wish to proceed with the lease."

A form of resolution was submitted which would authorize the lease, held up recently when the supervisors found that the state's grant of the canals prohibited closing them.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said "it is doubtful whether the waters could be closed during bird migratory periods:

"Where do we get off," asked Chairman William D. Fusselman, "if we lease to the society and they tried to enforce closure, and it is contested that we are responsible for harm or injury to somebody?"

"We'd not be responsible as lessors," said McGuire.

"There's no reason for a lease under such conditions," said Fusselman. But the matter was set over to Feb. 6 so that society officials could appear for further discussion if they wished.

The supervisors also:

1. Listened to long, bitter wrangling among Tiburon property owners dissatisfied with assessments for improving Ranch Road in the Tara Hill Assessment District, before closing the hearing. Decision was set at 2:30 p.m. Feb. 13.

2. Appointed Stella Stolz intermediate stenographer-clerk in the county clerk's office at $335, and Phyllis DuBois social worker in the welfare department at $483.

3. Received a letter from Sunny Hills Orphanage requesting reopening of discussion on county reimbursement for public wards, and assigned for budget discussion.

4. Authorized payment of a $1,200 budget allocation to the Marin County Historical Society.

5. Appointed Supervisor Walter R. Castro as ex-officio member of the Marin County Safety Commission.

7. Adopted resolutions establishing the Stinson Beach-Bolinas and the Marshall - Tomales Union School Districts, authorized at recent elections.

7. Set up Flood Control Zone 6, San Rafael Meadows, and appointed five residents as a zone advisory board: Janice Jopson, Edward Martin, Paul E. Zensius, Donald E. Henderson and Robert E. Laws.

DEPUTY GIVES LOST BOY, 3, A RIDE HOME

A 3-year-year-old Kentfield boy went for a hike clad only in shorts and T-shirt and got a free ride in a sheriff's patrol car yesterday.

Mrs. Ruth M. Larsen of 2 Skyline Road, San Anselmo, spotted the boy toddling barefoot down Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near College of Marin about 10 a.m. She took the boy to Ross Medical Center and called the sheriff.

Deputy Harold Goerndt drove the boy around various streets until finally the child pointed to a house and declared: "Here."

Mrs. Donna Rose Goodro of 10 Alta Mira Avenue, Kentfield, claimed little Robert Allen Goodro and promised to keep a closer eye on him.

Body Of Strangled Nurse Found Off Sears Point Road

VALLEJO (AP) — The nude, strangled and raped body of a Vallejo nurse was found on the bank of a slough off the Sears Point Road yesterday, the Solano sheriff's office said today.

Officers identified her as Mrs. Cavanaugh, 43, wife of James Cavanaugh, employed at the Mare Island Navy Shipyard.

A coroner's deputy said she had been strangled with such viciousness that the bones of her neck were crushed.

Cavanaugh told police he last saw his wife on Jan. 21 when he gave her a ride to the bus station. She planned an overnight visit with friends in San Francisco. They said today she never arrived.

Cavanaugh reported her missing two days later when she didn't return home.

The body was found in a clump of weeds in a slough off the Sears Point Road, four miles west of Vallejo.

Deputies said the body probably had been there only a few hours but Mrs. Cavanaugh had been dead 48 hours or more.

Cavanaugh said his wife was wearing a wedding band and a platinum engagement ring when he last saw her. They weren't on her hand.

Mrs. Cavanaugh, a registered nurse, was employed by the Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Vallejo.

Four More Women To Testify To Jury On Surgery

At least four more women will testify before the Marin County Grand Jury Thursday night in an attempt to bring a second abortion indictment against Mrs. Anita Venza, Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said yesterday.

Mrs. Venza appeared for plea yesterday before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin County Superior Court. Her attorney, Sol Abrams of San Francisco, was granted a continuance until 1:45 p.m. next Monday.

Mrs. Venza, 54, of 140 Bayview Avenue, Belvedere, is charged with three counts of illegal abortion.

Ratio Of Doctors

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California ranks third in the nation when it comes to the ratio of doctors to persons in the state. A year-end survey by the California Medical Assn. showed that the ratio was two physicians to every 735 persons in 1960. This was behind New York and Massachusetts, but slightly ahead of the national average, one to 745.

Attorney General Aide Slates Rights Report

Frank H. Williams, assistant California attorney general, will give a "Progress Report on Human Rights" at a San Francisco Theological Seminary assembly at 10:25 a.m. tomorrow in Alexander Hall on the seminary's San Anselmo campus.

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 31, the 31st day of the year with 334 more in 1961.

The moon is in its full phase.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1797, Austrian composer Franz Shubert was born.

In 1865, Confederate President Jefferson Davis named Gen. Robert E. Lee commander in chief of all Confederate armies.

In 1892, famed comedian Eddie Cantor was born.

In 1917, Germany announced she was instituting a policy of unrestricted submarine warfare.

In 1934, President Roosevelt devalued the American dollar in its relationship to gold to 59.06 cents.

A thought for today: American writer Henry David Thoreau said: "That man is richest whose pleasures are the cheapest."

Hometown Newspapers Make Public Service Hay

(NOTE: Praise from members of one's own profession always carries special pleasure. That's why we are so pleased and reprint here the following lengthy editorial from the Woodland Democrat.)

To a degree seldom recognized, home town newspapers are persistently making hay in the field of public service. Never before have they worked so aggressively and fearlessly for community betterment. As evidence we cite for exhibit A the effective jobe done recently by the San Rafael Independent-Journal, so ably directed by Justus Craemer and Roy Brown, the owners.

What the I-J did most heroically was to rescue the citizens of Marin from a MESS. They stood to lose many thousands of dollars and endure years of expensive litigation. The home-town paper came to their rescue.

In a foolhardy move, three county supervisors hurriedly halted construction on Marin's Civic Center. The action was based on the wild notion that the partly completed Center administration building could be converted into a hospital for which there is need, and the costly plans for a Civic Center in keeping with Marin's substantial growth and rich resources should be thrown out the window.

Two seasoned board members, Walter Castro and Wm. Gnoss, patiently warned that the breach of contract would bring about prolonged and damaging court action. They also cautioned that even the temporary abandonment of the Civic Center would mean the loss of jobs for hundreds of craftsmen, who, with their families, would have to go on relief rolls. They expressed doubts that the architects and engineers would report the hospital conversion scheme as practical.

Obviously playing to the grandstand and attempting to court political favor with taxpayers, the three stubborn members of the board refused to budge. But they had misjudged the pulse of the people, their pride in "Marvelous Marin" and their public-spiritedness. The officials were not far-seeing enough to understand that it is economically wise to provide adequate facilities for the future in a community that is expanding rapidly and is as solid as Marin.

Here is where the Independent-Journal came in. Aftermath to their unbiased news coverage of the supervisors' proceedings, a series of mass protest meetings sprung up. Both sides aired their views, often with more heat than light. It was democracy in high gear. There was confusion. There was chaos, with nobody getting anywhere fast.

Although they felt that the three supervisors had pulled a serious boner, the Craemer-Brown troops held that it would be just and advisable to find out what the public wanted to do—especially, the taxpayers, who as usual carry the load. The paper decided to poll the people through published straw ballots.

So that the headstrong supervisors could not charge that the I-J stuffed the ballot box, the paper hired a certified accounting firm to process the polling, then count the ballots in public and turn over their tally to the supervisors, the I-J picking up the tab.

The response to the poll was amazing. More than 9,000 ballots were mailed in to the accountants. The result: 8 of every 9 persons disagreed with the haltwork order of the supervisors; indicating with emphasis that the Civic Center designed by famous Frank Lloyd Wright should be competed.

The technical findings also came in to the effect that the plan to turn the administration building into a hospital was not feasible.

The supervisors immediately rescinded their action.

Incidentally, nobody will begrudge Vera Schultz and Jim Marshall, ex-Marin supervisors, if they had a hearty chuckle to themselves over what happened. They were defeated for re-election partly on the Civic Center issue, as they had voted for the improvement.

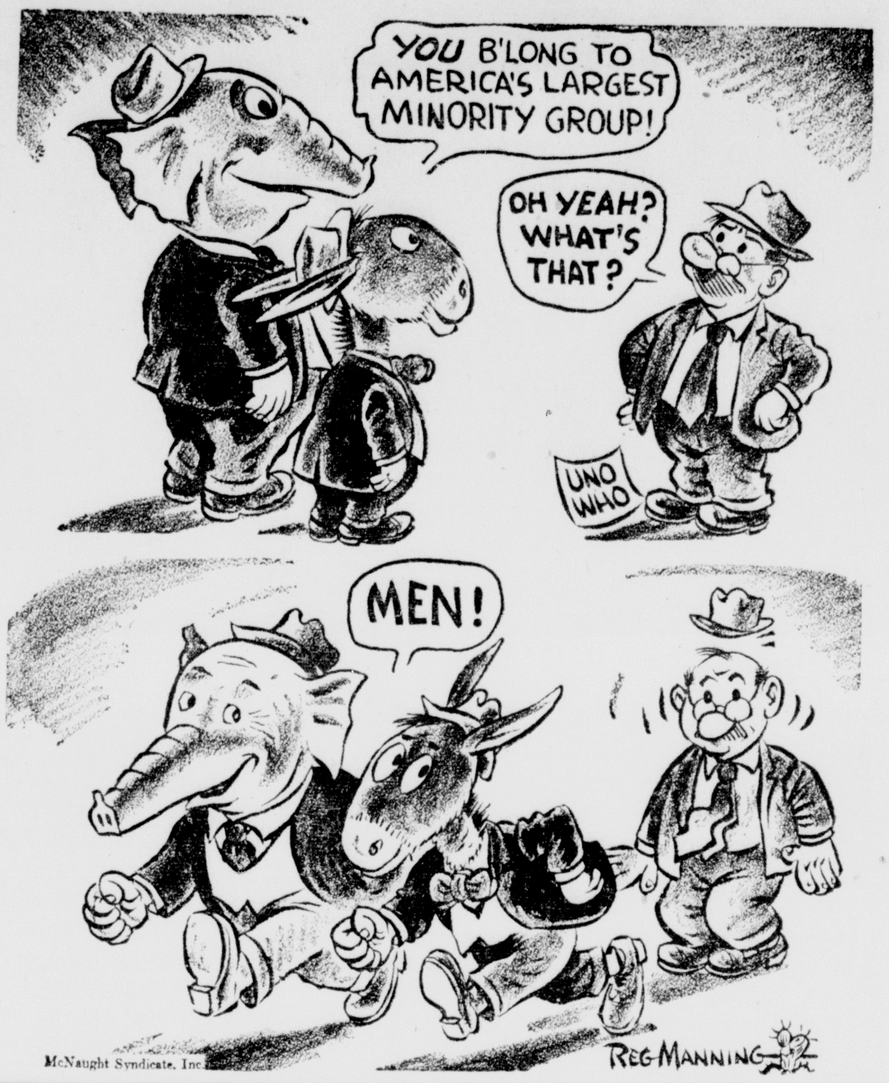
Out of the hassel, perhaps the embarrassed supervisors learned a valuable lesson they'll never forget. They should profit from the experience. After all, two of the three chagrined officials had barely warmed their chairs. Both suckered themselves into trouble without giving the Civic Center project sufficient study. Let's hope this was not a criterion by which to judge their future conduct in office:

There's no excuse for being "penny wise and pound foolish," especially it it is for the purpose of playing politics.

The final act was a compliment to the lead played by the home-town paper. The people have faith in the I-J's factual news reporting, and when the paper takes a stand editorially it means something. Its judgment is respected.

Newspapers—like freedom, like love, and like life itself—are a part of living which we mostly take for granted. However, all citizens in Marin should give the Independent-Journal a hefty pat on the back. In Marin and in every community there's a need for a newspaper that reports the news truthfully and has a salty tongue, and whose point of view is not for sale and is as constructive as it is crusty.

REGARDLESS OF RACE, CREED, COLOR—



WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Can't We Ignore Book Charges?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

How long will the citizens of this county tolerate the waste of time, money and energy required to answer the charges against this book or that book contained in school libraries?

The school board charged has, at least on two occasions now, reacted in a way both uniquely and intelligently responsible, clearing itself before the community, only to be charged again and from the same source?

Is that source a responsible one? What are its real motives other than harassment of schools and whom does it represent?

May not now, at last, these repetitious and irresponsible charges be ignored?

Criticism Of Roads Unit Is Unjust

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of Jan. 23 speaks disparagingly of the Marin conservationists and the Scenic Roads Association who allegedly oppose "improving the Shoreline Highway to West Marin," as if they were the sinners and the freeway proponents the saints.

Public opinion at the two meetings we have had with the Highway Department suggests just the opposite, and many of us who read your paper wonder at your attitude and your facts. No one is opposed to "improving the Shoreline Highway"; we are opposed to a freeway.

We have not, furthermore, any promise, other than T. Fred Bagshaw's admitted "personal opinion" at the supervisor's meeting last 17th, that a freeway will not be started for 10 years. Have you any proof that it won't begin NEXT year?

You say you wish "the west shoreline developed in an orderly and reasonable manner," and yet support planning for a freeway rather than a scenic road and ask for prompt location of this freeway. You know also that the Highway Department must plan for a freeway, since it has now no "scenic road" category.

But it should be obvious that a scenic road can be placed where a freeway cannot, so why decide on a route we might not have to take? A four-lane highway requires more space and destruction than a two-lane, and the expense of the larger road is far greater than the smaller.

Isn't it then really more "reasonable and orderly" to await the introduction in a few months of a scenic road bill in the legislature, than to rush ahead now?

Most of the property owners of Muir Beach, Tam Valley and, especially, Sitnson Beach, are in real terror of a freeway and planning for a freeway. Stinson Beach is in grave danger of being partially destroyed and forever cut in half by the limited-access road the Highway Department already has planned for it. Two hundred and forty of us have banded together under the heading of "Save Stinson Beach" to try to prevent it.

It is small wonder many of us here thank God for the Scenic Roads Association and its plea for a "stay of execution." We feel your criticism of it is unjust. This organization alone offers us a real possibility soon for a scenic road category in our state highway system; such a category will enable the state to spend less money for the kind of road this and other scenic areas demand and, with the savings, to build freeways where they are needed — in those areas where speed is necessary.

Readers who feel as we do should write immediately to the Marin Board of Supervisors and request that they vote to remove this route from the freeway system.

I-J Leading Us To Mediocrity

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your editorial on Monday, Jan. 23, titled "Let's Get Together on Location of Highway No. 1" was not, unfortunately, the first time you have based an editorial on a false premise.

I am a member of the board of directors of Scenic Roads Association and I am not against an improved Highway 1. Neither are any of the many people I know who are working on this project.

We have asked for and hope to get a new classification of road in California, a scenic road. And we don't want to find ourselves with a four-lane fenced freeway before the legislature has time to develop such a category.

If, as the Highway people say, the improvement of this highway is years away in the future, it would be wise to remake Highway 1 from the master plan at this time and see if a less destructive highway plan can be developed that would preserve the beauty of that area.

It is sad that the Independent-Journal chooses to use the word conservationist as an insult. The present viewpoint of the paper can only promote mediocrity.

Cat's Eyes Better Than Botts' Dots But Neither Help Lightless Cars

Now I am not a cat lover. But I do appreciate cats' eyes.

In Jolly Old England, they really know how to brew up a fog. This stuff we've had is a mere broth of a fog compared to the soup they have over there.

Around here, there still is the assurance way back in your head, that there is a sun. In England, you are sure that never again will you get a tan.

DRIVING IN the stuff over there becomes a game. You hang your head out the car window and pray, if you're the church-going type. Drivers have been known to meet eyeball to eyeball, politely pull in their heads and go round, then come back to looking for cats' eyes.

Now I drive about 250 to 300 miles a week, up and down Highway 101, in and out of the boondocks. In sun, fog, night and rain. And as the weather gets thicker, the lines which tell you to stay in your lane literally disappear.

They fade into even black pavement, leaving you wandering aimlessly on a three-lane freeway with other lost cars.

NOW IN THE OLD country, they have cats' eyes, small reflectors set in the lane lines. The fog hangs in, rain sluices down, center lines disappear. But as soon as a ray of light hits the cats' eyes, they reflect like a string of Christmas tree lights.

The eyes are set in the pavement, surrounded by rubber. When a car tire hits them, they're pushed down and wiped dry and clean by the rubber casing to pop up again and reflect headlights.

The State Division of Highways is experimenting with the cats' eyes in the northbound lanes of Highway 101 in the Alto area. They say there has been a "lot of favorable comment." I'll add my vote for the cats.

THEY'RE ALSO experimenting with Botts' dots.

These are moulded plastic mounds set on the white lines, aimed at relfecting light at night. They're named after the inventor, lost in the backroads of the division.

Botts may be a fine, upstanding soul, but his dots have no kick compared to cats' eyes.

NOW I HAVE a suggestion for Mr. Botts. Why not get the Division of Highways to finance an experiment to stop the biggest hazard of driving in murky weather.

Find a way to make the jackass drivers who drive without lights in rain and fog, to put on full headlights, even though it is daytime.

Quiet Diplomacy Can Be Carried On Without Public Ignorance

WASHINGTON—Secretary Rusk's statement that the administration will "use freely the diplomatic channel" has naturally enough raised the question whether this means that the public will come to know and understand less of what is going on.

The question is a perennial one in a democratic society. True negotiation is impossible if it has to be done publicly and yet a free people cannot be left in the dark.

As Rusk says, "The value of the diplomatic channel depends on its privacy." But the public has the right and the need to know what is being done.

THE PROBLEM can be stated so that is sounds insoluble. But as a matter of fact it is not at all impossible, although it requires the gifts of leadership, for a competent government to keep the public well informed without destroying the privacy which is essential to diplomatic negotiations.

It can be done by periodic talks, one might almost say lectures, given by the President and the Secretary of State explaining the situation and how it got to be what it is, and what are the difficulties and the issues which have to be dealth with.

This is what Churchill did in his great war speeches. He rallied men not only by the eloquence and beauty of his words but even more, I venture to believe, by convincing them that on the issues of life and death they were in the know.

Not many can be so eloquent as Churchill. But the Democratic leaders can tell the story There is no need for Lincoln White, for example, to tell the newspapers what Nikita Khrushchev said to Llewellyn E. Thompson when they met at the Kremlin, or what Prime Minister Macmillan said to President Kennedy in a message passed on by the Ambassador.

The indispensable privacy of diplomatic intercourse can be preserved if the leaders know how to talk informatively to the people on the issues of policy.

To talk informatively is in the main to narrate the history and to be very sparing of pious generalities and of the old stereotype of exhortation and defiance. If the leaders will interest and do not bore the public, there will be less interest in keyholes and in eavesdropping and leaks.

Quiet diplomacy must not be identified with withdrawal from the public view, with the withholding of knowledge, with locking the door and pulling down the blinds.

In a democratic society quiet diplomacy is possible and can be fruitful only if at the same time there is an increase of communication on foreign affairs between the chief executive and the public.

Moreover, it can be said, I think, that diplomatic intercourse can be kept quiet and private only if it becomes routine and commonplace. Khrushchev's interview with Ambassador Thompson is not a true example of quiet diplomacy. The meeting is not quiet when it is announced to the whole world, and the proof that it was not quiet is that there are leaks about it all over the place. There will not be effective quiet diplomacy until in Moscow and in Washington diplomatic meetings are so plentiful that they are not public events.

Let us hope that we shall get to this.

Success, That 'Tricky Word,' Hasn't Spoiled Jack Lemmon

NEW YORK (AP) — Success takes all the fun out of life for some people.

It turns them sour and gives them a grudge against the world.

Stardom has worked the other way for Jack Lemmon, who last year became one of the top 10 film boxoffice draws. He still gets a huge kick out of his rise to celebrity status, but isn't overly impressed with it.

Jack came here for a brief fun ride on the Manhattan roller-coaster after completing his latest movie comedy role in "The Wackiest Ship in the Army."

Asked if success had made any drastic change in his life, Lemmon, who happens to come from a wealthy Boston family, made a mock grimace and said: "Success is a very trick word. It is already someone else's opinion of you—and not your own.

"A man who makes a million dollars isn't really a success in his own eyes unless he feels happy and fulfilled.

"You have to do things to fill your own needs—if you want to stay healthy."

At 35 the slender, dark-haired actor still admits to a couple of repressed desires, neither of which, however, is exactly making him miserable.

He'd like to write a hit song, and he'd like to appear in a hit Broadway play.

Jack loves what he calls "piano doodling," and the result is some 400 unpublished tunes.

Jack's two stabs at Broadway fame have been almost as unsuccessful as his songs. His most recent play, "Face of a Hero," folded after seven weeks. But he wants to try again next year.

"No one blames you personally if a stage play flops," he said "It isn't a career handicap. And, anyway, it's good to get out of lotusland for a while.

"When you're on the stage and fluff a line, there's nobody to say, 'That's okay, let's do it again, Charlie.'

"You've got to make it alone—and that's good for you.

IF YOU'VE been used to working in the movies, doing a sustained role in a Broadway play is like going into a gym and working out.

"It gets an actor back into shape, as training does an athlete. It doesn't matter whether the play hits or misses. He has been helped."

Lemmon isn't exactly dazzled by his present ranking as a big-money comedy film star.

IT MEANS one thing—that I now can go to the bank and get money for another picture," he said.

Here's Jack's own capsule philosophy of living:

"Be happy in yourself. Pick the field you like best, and work at your peak ability. It it's only laying bricks, lay them as best you can—and you can't really lose."

A very relaxing man, and good company—on or off the screen.

Traveling by train recently from West Palm Beach in Florida, I sought out a porter when my connection was a full hour overdue. "I know this train originates in Miami," I said. "Will you tell me how it can lose an hour in something like 70 miles?" "That's easy, mister," explained the unperturbed porter. "It hasn't left Miami yet."

I made one last protest. "On your bulletin board," I pointed out, "this train is distinctly marked 'O.T.'"

"Hell's bells, mister," chuckled the porter. "'O.T.' doesn't mean 'On time.' It only means that the train is still 'on the track.'"

I made the return trip by plane.

Physical Decline Of U.S. People Worries Kennedy

Pledges White House Leadership To Focus Attention On Fitness

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy said today he was concerned about "a steady decline" in the physical fitness standards of Americans as compared with Europeans and other people around the world.

He said he hoped that the White House would "do our best to emphasize" that physical fitness was vital to the nation's survival and that something must be done about the problem.

Kennedy commented in a video-taped interview with Dave Garroway on the NBC "Today" television program. He appeared on a segment marking the 150th anniversary of the founding of Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, of which Kennedy has been on the board of overseers since 1947.

The president, in the interview which was conducted Saturday in the broadcast room of the White House, noted that his family had been "particularly interested" in research into causes of mental retardation of children and had provided funds for a research center to be built at the hospital.

"I think this is one area where there has been inadequate research," Kennedy said. He said that it was important not only to care for the mentally retarded children but also "to examine why they are retarded and what could be done about it—whether through surgery or other treatment we could begin to cure them, not merely care for them."

MAGAZINE ARTICLE

Garroway recalled that Kennedy had written an article recently in Sports Illustrated magazine on physical fitness and asked if the importance of this was recognized by young and middle-aged persons.

"Well, I think it is a serious problem," Kennedy said. "Our society is quite sophisticated and we are in a very dangerous period in our world history. We have unrelenting foes who are determined to destroy us.

"Physical fitness goes with mental fitness," the president stated. "It goes with energy—and I am concerned that the recent tests have shown a steady decline in the standards of American fitness as compared to Europeans and people around the world. In reading a recent article on guerrilla warfare, I noticed the great emphasis put on physical fitness."

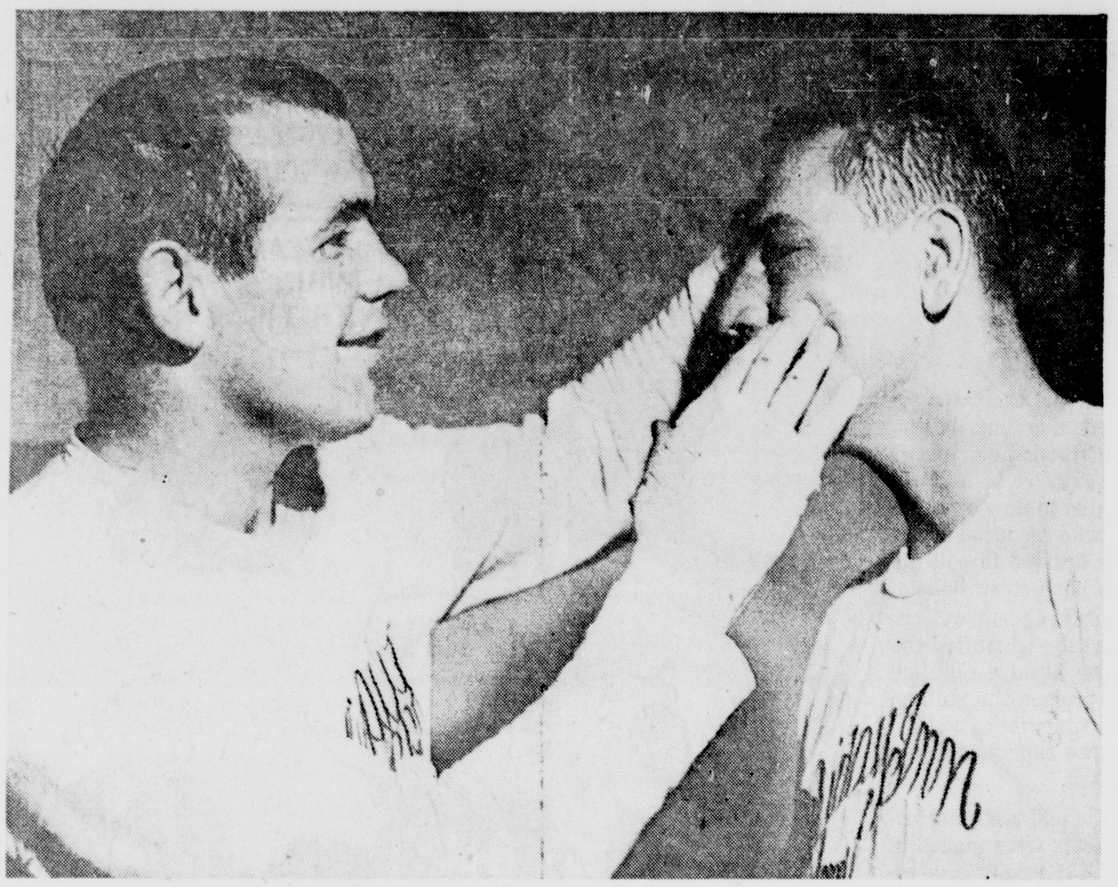
Kennedy said the nation is "in a dangerous mood, and I think we have to be fit."

'HARDER NOW'

"Now it's harder, because our life is easier—we have cars, buses and all the rest," he said. "I think we ought to concern ourselves with making sure that our children are fit, that they are concerned with being energetic—that they use their young years not merely as spectators but as participants in life . . .

"It's really up to every parent. Do your children go every week and watch a basketball game, or do they do something to make themselves fit?

"I am inclined to think that we think if we watch a football game or a baseball game, that we have taken part in it. That's not what we want."



ROUGH ON THE SPARRING PARTNERS

Ingemar Johansson, left, checks the swollen eye of his sparring partner, Tony Esperti, then benched him for the day. Joe LaQuatra, Ingo's other sparmate, was also sidelined with a cut eyelid, leaving the Swedish challenger to work solo at his training camp where he is preparing for his bout with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson. Ingemar laid off training today, giving his training corps an added day of much-needed rest. (AP Wirephoto)

Giants Sign Two Bullpen Specialists

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sherman (Roadblock) Jones, Giant bullpen specialist, was in the fold of the San Francisco Giants today after inking his 1961 contract.

Another relief hurler, Ray Deviault, also signed his contract with the Giants yesterday.

Jones won 10 in a row last year for Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League and then came up to the parent Giants in August. He compiled a 1-1 record.

Daviault hurled for Harlingen, pennant winners of the Texas League last year. He compiled an excellent 13-5 record for Harlingen and had an earned run average of 2.75.

The Giants announced that three minor leaguers have been invited to spring training with San Francisco. They are Harlingen outfielder Manuel Mota, Tacoma catcher Tom Haller and Georges Maranda, who pitched for the Giants last season but is currently on the Tacoma roster.

Balanced Buckeyes Roll On With Impressive Victory Over Badgers

By Associated Press

College basketball coaches usually can come up with ways and means of stopping one big star, but what are you going to do with a whole team of them?

That's the dilemma faced by Ohio State's rivals. Chances are they could devise a defense to stop tall Jerry Lucas, just as Minnesota stalled Indiana's big Walt Bellamy last night. But that still would leave four teammates, plus some subs, to be accounted for.

While Indiana, Kentucky and Louisville, all highly regarded teams, were going down, Lucas and his Buckeye teammates went rocking along to their 15th victory of the season and their 20th straight over a two-year span. Wisconsin was the victim, 100-68.

The measure of Ohio State's all-around skill was reflected in a 50.7 per cent shooting average for the team—39 field goals on 77 attempts. Lucas made 19 points, Larry Siegfried 18, John Havlicek 15 and Mel Nowell 14. Even when Ohio Coach Fred Taylor benched his regulars late in the first half and again with nine minutes to go in the second Wisconsin could not gain.

Lucas was stopped just short of a Big Ten record when he missed a free throw after hitting 27 straight.

Jerry's 1960 Olympic teammate, Bellamy, didn't get the same kind of help as Minnesota, trailing 37-33 at half time, produced a collapsing defense in the second half and won out 66-58. Bellamy did a great rebounding job, but the Hoosiers couldn't get the ball to him often enough on offense and he scored only 15 points.

Ohio State was left as the only Big Ten team unbeaten in conference play while Indiana slipped to 2-1 in the standing.

Illinois, a Big Ten team that follows the theory of trying to outrun and outshoot the opposition, chalked up its second conference victory 93-92 over Michigan State on Bill Small's basket with 21 seconds to go.

Miami of Florida checked Louisville, ranked seventh nationally in the current poll, 71-69 in a thriller. Georgia Tech upset Kentucky 62-60 and Kansas for the Big Eight Conference lead with a 72-70 decision over Iowa State.

The only other top ten team in action last night, St. John's (NY) had to come from far back early in the game but gained an 84-75 decision over Creighton without too much difficulty.

In other major conference games, Florida won its fifth straight in the Southeastern—a record for the school—by beating Alabama 52-50; West Virginia wore down Furman in a high-scoring Southern Conference affair to gain a 96-87 decision and Richmond trimmed Davidson 83-78 in another Southern Conference.

Ohio State Again Tops Hoop Poll

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the seventh straight week Ohio State tops the nation's college basketball teams with a perfect score in the weekly Associated Press ranking poll.

The unbeaten Buckeyes, who crushed Purdue 92-62 last week in the game that was expected to be a deciding factor in the Big Ten race, drew the unanimous vote of the 36-member AP panel of sports writers and broadcasters. They received the maximum of 360 points on a 10-9-8 etc basis.

St. Bonaventure and Bradley, due to settle their second-place argument in a head-to-head meeting in New York's Madison Square Garden Thursday, continued their close race for the runner-up spot.

St. Bonaventure received 22 second-place votes and nine for third to collect 305 points. Bradley polled 281 points with 11 votes for second and 22 for third.

The voting was based on results of games through last Saturday. The top 10:

1.	Ohio State	360
2.	St. Bonaventure	305
3.	Bradley	281
4.	Duke	210
5.	North Carolina	203
6.	Iowa	134
7.	Louisville	125
8.	South'n California	118

Coast Teams Find Road Going Rough

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

When a basketball team goes on the road and moves into unfamiliar gyms, both baskets and wins are much harder to come by.

St. Mary's UOP and the Cal Aggies demonstrated this oft-proved point last night, although the Gaels did manage to pull out a victory.

St. Mary's invaded the fiercely partisan confines of the Humboldt State gym last night and found themselves trailing at the half, 36-23.

But the cool head of Tom Meschery prevailed as he led the Gaels on the long trail back. With seconds to go he popped in the winning basket to give the Gaels their 11th win in 15 tries. Final score was 57-56 as Meschery had 18.

Texas A&M stampeded the Pacific Tigers by a lop-sided 86-39 count. The Aggies' Carrol Broussoud won his duel with UOP's Ken Stanley by a 24-13 margin.

The Cal Aggies were on the short end of another blitz as Montana State thumped them, 78-48. The Aggies are at Eastern Montana tonight.

In other action, Sacramento State remained undefeated in the Far West Conference race, defeating San Francisco State, 63-49.

West Coast highlight tonight is a rematch between fierce rivals Portland and Seattle, California and Los Angeles State are in Hawaii for games with island teams.

Harding Hackers Jolted By Pros' Complete Destruction Of Par

HANLEY

Pride of Harding Park hackers in their fine municipal layout was severely jolted during the first 36 holes of the $57,000 Lucky International Golf Tournament as the touring pros took it apart with surgical sureness.

Before the tournament started, Harding's devoted duffers fervently hoped the pros would have difficulty with its par 71 and the more rabid among them rashly predicted it would withstand the assault of the master shot-makers.

By the midway mark when 52 posted sub-par rounds and 14 others equalled par, the more emotional among Harding's hackers began to alibi about the weather, claiming that the rain had converted Harding's greens into sponges that would hold the sloppiest kind of shot.

"Let them come back in July when the moisture isn't on their side and the greens and fairways are slick as bowling alleys," wrote one of the "experts" as he tried to explain away George Bayer's 36-hole total of 131 and a bushel-full of 135s.

UNDISTURBED by the sudden outbreak of alibis were Harding's superintendent Jack Fleming, who served as chairman of the greens committee for the tournament, and Johnny Maughan, grounds committee chairman.

"Harding won't disgrace us," said Fleming with a calm confidence.

Maughan, equally unperturbed, explained the par-cracking first rounds "as something to be expected."

"I CAN understand the pride every golfer takes in his home course regardless of whether it is public or an exclusive country club," said Maughan. "But they never should permit their pride to under-estimate just how good the touring pros are.

"There is no shot they can't master. The tightest kind of lies don't bother them. They can cut them out and stop them on concrete.

"All that talk about the rain turning the greens into blotters is just the reverse of what they will be saying in a couple of weeks when the pros reach Arizona. I don't buy any of it.

"Those sub-par 36-hole totals at Harding weren't much different from the midway scores at Pebble Beach and the third round totals of the leaders in the Crosby and Lucky were identical. I'm not trying to compare Harding with Pebble but cited the parallels only because in every tournament the pros are much looser in the first rounds.

"IT TIGHTENS for them in the third round and they begin to find some of the trouble on every course. In the stretch on the last round you can almost feel the tension."

Maughan then summed up this way:

"Excluding Pebble Beach, which is a public course even though it seldom is thought of as such, Harding is one of the finest public courses in the nation. And the fact the pros made it look easy during the first half of the Lucky should not disturb Harding's railbirds. They do it to all courses in the initial rounds. Give them their due. They are master craftsmen."

Vic Morabito Backs Hickey In Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The man who signs the paychecks for the San Francisco 49ers—President Vic Morabito—says:

"It is regrettable that some players have not agreed with Red Hickey and his staff in their assessment of personnel. Red knows what he wants and he fully intends to achieve the desired goal without compromise.

"I know that his treatment of all players is fair and just, and I strongly resent what I know is an unjust reflection on his ability as a coach."

Morabito issued his statement yesterday after some veteran players had expressed dissatisfaction. Defensive lineman Ed Henke, for one, said he wanted to be traded.

After his club won four of its final games of the 1960 National Football League season, Hickey was given a new three-year contract with a raise.

"That certainly is strong evidence of the esteem in which he is held by the 49er organization," Morabito said.

General Manager Lou Spadia said no action had been taken on Henke's letter asking to be traded.

Hickey said that if Henke really desires to be traded, "We will try to accommodate him. He has always given 100 per cent and has a great desire to stay in football as a coach later."

Despite His Late Season 'Slump' Maris Gets Healthy Raise In Pay

NEW YORK (AP)—The case of Roger Maris is a puzzler. He hits 39 homers, drives in 112 runs, wins the most valuable player award and what happens? Everybody asks, "Why did you slump?"

Maris was questioned about his second-half slump yesterday when he signed his contract with the New York Yankees for an estimated $33,000 salary. The guesses were that he got $21,000 last year.

ONLY A GUESS

"Estimated," you ask? Right. This is the informed guess of the baseball writers. Nobody will know the official figures except Maris, the Yanks—and the Internal Revenue Service next year.

Maybe Roger will tell the Mrs. He wouldn't even hint to the writers. "If anybody asks me how much I'm going to get, they won't find out," he said at the opening of the news conference.

Now, about the slump. Despite the homers, RBI and MVP award, the figures do not lie. On July 20, Maris had hit 31 home runs in 83 games. At the end of the season he had hit only 8 more in 53 games.

NO ALIBIS

Maris had no alibis although he could have pointed to the rib injury that kept him out of the lineup from Aug. 14 to 31, except for a pinch-hitting appearance. In 1959 an appendectomy put him on the shelf and resulted in another tailspin at Kansas City.

"I've got my own theory," he said and then clammed up, except to add that "when a hitter goes sour there is not much he can do."

Maris admitted he had trouble at the Yankee Stadium with its inviting right field stands "because I tried to pull too much." A left-handed batter, he found himself reaching for the seats subconsciously.

"If I hit straight away like I do on the road, I would be better off," said the Yankees' right fielder. "I hit very few long balls to left or center last year in the stadium."

375 POUNDS OF BLUE MARLIN

Frank Barscocchini of 11 Meadow Avenue, Kentfield, stands beside the whopping blue marlin he caught and conquered on a fishing trip last week off the coast of Kona on the island of Hawaii. The whopper weighed 375 pounds and measured 10 feet, 11 inches in length. It required Barsocchini only 45 minutes to subdue the monster.

Rain Wipes Out Steelhead Action; Marinite Writes About Deer 'Feud'

STEVENS

Didya ever sit watching a dramatic scene on TV and suddenly have the picture replaced by "snow"? Real aggravating, isn't it? But that's what happened to our steelhead fishing the past 48 hours. Thursday, Friday and Saturday were productive days along the north coast. The Gualala was producing a fair amount of fish, the Garcia was a bit slow, but a few fish were taken on Saturday. We note that the fair mistress of the Garcia Hotel at Point Arena, Clare Titus, made the grade in the Garcia on Saturday. But the hottest stream of all was the Navarro. Lots of fish landed in many of the favorite holes.

Prospects looked great for a bang-up weekend. Then, what happens? Not "snow" but RAIN . . . a regular downpour hit that area on Saturday night, continued dumping tons of water all during the night and at 10 a.m. Sunday, when I called Ernie Titus, it was still pouring. So—we write finis to the short spell of fishable conditions on the tide-water streams to the north. Sorry!

Figure on at least three-and-a-half days for the Garcia to return to normal AFTER THE RAIN STOPS, and add two days for most other streams.

I was told that four steelheaders from the Bay Area were caught with their licenses down. Silly boys! Did you know that more arrests are made each year for fishing without a license than all other violations combined? A news release just received gives the figure for 1960 at 3,439 arrests for this offense. Next in line for doubtful distinction was the 891 arrests for fishing with two rods. Among hunters most violators got caught with a loaded gun in the car. Arrests totaled 1,283 in 1960.

The reprinting, in our column of Jan. 20, anent the gripe of Northern Counties Conservation Assn. in Redding through Charles Bull and Dr. J. M. Kolisch (attacking the proposals of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Big Game) aroused the ire of conservationist Steve Mason of San Rafael.

Mr. Mason typed out a very pungent rebuttal of the attack in two-and-a-half pages of single-spaced type. Far too long to print in this column, but here are a few excerpts which merit repeating: "I've come to see that wildlife management is a complex applied science and, as such, deserves respect from the layman. I would like to recommend the reading of a pamphlet issued by the F&G entitled 'Now is the Time to Harvest' . . . A rational person will be convinced Messrs. Bull and Kolisch are out of line—the basic problem at present is not how to increase deer numbers, but how to use what we have. Finally, Charles Bull and Dr. Kolisch are, in my opinion, men who let emotion, not reason, control their actions—there have always been people opposed to progress in every field of human endeavor; these men have as their primary objective, opposition for the sake of being opposite . . . The Citizens Advisory Committee's recommendations, although they may not be the final and complete answer, certainly are a step in the right direction."

Anyone else want to air their views on the controversy? Clad to hear from you.

Palmer Heads Fast Field At Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—Arnold Palmer, who launched his great 1960 campaign here, leads a small army of golfers tomorrow into the 90-hole, $50,000 Palm Springs Classic.

A picked field of 128 professionals, each accompanied by three amateurs, for a total of 512 players, spreads out over the vast desert country on four courses for the first four rounds. The final round of the second annual classic will be played Sunday on a fifth course.

THE COURSES

Bermuda Dunes, Indian Wells, Thunderbird and Eldorado are the sites of the first four rounds of pro-amateur competition. Tamarisk Country Club, the official headquarters of the tournament, is the setting for the windup with the low 60 professionals competing.

Last year Palmer won the five-round classic and $12,000. He had scores of 67-73-67-66 and wound up with a six-under-par 65 for a total score of 338.

Second at 341 was Fred Hawkins and veteran Johnny Palmer, no relation to Arnold. Bob Goalby tied for third at 342.

Palmer went on to win almost everything in sight, including the United States Open, the Masters and more than $80,000.

STARS RETURN

Much the same cast of stars of tournament golf is here again.

Invited were the winners of the 1961 tournament swing thus far in California—Goalby at Los Angeles, Bob Rosburg at the Bing Crosby Tournament, Gary Player at San Francisco Sunday and Arnold Palmer at San Diego.

A side attraction again is a $50,000 hole-in-one opportunity. Last year stocky Joe Campbell scored an ace with a 3-iron on the 205-yard fifth hole at Tamarisk. Joe by agreement split the pot with a fellow professional, Buddy Sullivan, and a sponsor which reduced his lucky strike to $12,500 before taxes.

Bill Would Permit Hunting In Certain State Parks

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—One of the most interesting and important bills of the 1961 legislative session thus far is one that no one expected—it would permit hunting in certain state parks, whenever it was practical.

The bill, SB353, does quite a bit more than that and already has run into some trouble with the state park commission.

Senator Randolph Collier (D-Yreka) is author of the measure and his reasoning in the matter seems to be pretty sound. Collier, like some other observers, has noted too often that when the state acquires property for a beach or park, the use of the property then diminishes, rather than increases.

There was a case in Humboldt County, for instance, where the state acquired some property around a bay. The bay had been a favorite for water skiers but the first order of the divisions of beaches and parks was to prohibit all water skiing.

At Nimbus State Park, an adjunct to Folsom Lake State Park near Sacramento, one of the first beach and park edicts after state acquisition was to rule out horseback riding and overnight camping. This put a crimp in the plans of residents who had been riding into the area and camping with a youth group for many years.

Happily, both of the above situations have been corrected. Happily, also, the present chief of the division, Charles A. DeTurk, has the reputation of being a user, rather than just a looker. For under past administrations, the accent on all parks and beaches was that they should be looked at but not much of any thing else. Thus there was a lot of money spent in buying redwoods and property around historical monuments, but not much for camp sites or other facilities which would permit use of the areas.

Of course, the ban on hunting on state parks has been in effect for years and stems from the national park service.

Now Collier, first of all, wants to put the policies of the park commission, which now are in rule form and subject to change by the commission but not the Legislature, into the law. This would permit the Legislature to modify them.

And included in usage of parks and beaches is one section on recreational areas, providing for "camping, picnicking, swimming, hiking, horseback riding, boating, and hunting." A new section in the code would provide:

"The Legislature finds and declares that it is in the public interest to permit hunting, fishing, swimming, trails, camping, campsites and summer homesites in certain state parks comprising recreational areas, or portions thereof, when it is found that such multiple use of state parks would not threaten the safety and welfare of other state park users."

The alert staff of the park commission wasted no time. The bill was introduced Jan. 25 and the commission was informed of the bill on Jan. 27. DeTurk objected, at first glance, to the homesite provision in the language and advised the commission it should proceed to oppose the bill.

Whether the opposition will be confined to homesite provisions is not known. Perhaps there still will be some opposition to permitting hunting, even it it is shown to be a practical use.

It's still an interesting bill and one worth watching.

Gonzaga Star Highly Praised

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gonzaga's high-scoring Frank Burgess "is definitely a better shooter" than were either Elgin Baylor or Oscar Robertson in college, according to USF coach Pete Peletta.

The Dons edged Gonzaga 64-62 Saturday night despite a 34-point performance by Burgess.

Peletta yesterday told the Northern California basketball writers that the 6-foot-1 inch Burgess could not equal either Robertson or Baylor as a rebounder or passer, but "he made 14 out of 22 field goal attempts against us, and he had to sweat for every one of them."

Three Quintets Win Handily In C League Tilts

The Probation Department, the Raiders and Golden State won handily in San Rafael Recreation Department C League basketball play last night.

Probation smothered Klein TV 60-32 with Chuck Moore pouring 28 points through the hoop for the winners.

The Raider win was a 57-36 triumph at the expense of the Ghilotti five, with the Hallinan brothers setting the pace. Butch scored 19 points, Dynamite 16.

Golden State laced Dumont 43-27 and again it was a brother combination that topped the scoring. Ed LaRue had 12 points, his brother Bob 11.

In Saturday's league play Frank Mooney was high with 154-161-128—443. High game for the boys was Rich Connor's 168 and high solo for girls was 127 by Donna Cowan.

Pittsburgh Pirates Picked Sports Team Of The Year

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Anytime a person is connected with a baseball club so highly recognized it is a truly great honor."

Manager Danny Murtaugh made that comment last night upon learning his Pittsburgh Pirates had been named the "Team of the Year for 1960" by sports writers and broadcasters participating in the annual Associated Press yearend poll.

The Pirates, who won the National League pennant and then defeated the New York Yankees in the World Series, received 289 points in the voting. The Philadelphia Eagles, National Football League champions, placed second with 130 points. The U. S. Olympic team was third with 91 points.

Murtaugh, the National League manager of the year, said he was thrilled at the Pirates' latest honor and added: "If I had voted, I would have had to cast my ballot for the Pirates, also."

Murtaugh said the reason for his vote would have been the late-inning rallies the Pirates staged to win many games which established them as a "truly remarkable ball club."

HAPPY PILOT

The smiling Irishman, who lives in Chester, Pa., near Philadelphia, said he was happy about the Eagles finishing second and also noted their come-from-behind finishes during the past season.

"I'm an Eagle fan," Murtaugh said. "It is amazing how the Eagles were to football what we were to baseball. It is quite an honor for Pennsylvania to be represented by two teams such as the Eagles and the Pirates."

Asked if he presently held any ideas concerning future honors for himself and the Pirates, Murtaugh replied, "Right now I'm just thinking about getting ready for next season."

OTHER LEADERS

Other teams which had more than 20 points were, in the order of their selection: Ohio State, basketball; Boston Celtics, basketball; University of Washington, football; U. S. Olympic, basketball; and University of Minnesota, football.

Murtaugh was in Pittsburgh to see Pirate president John Galbreath of Columbus, Ohio, honored as Pittsburgh's man of the year.

SEMI-CUSTOM CONVERTIBLE

Marin Car Featured In Oakland Exhibit

A newly-built semi-custom convertible from San Rafael will make its show debut during the 1961 National Roadster Show held Feb. 17-26 in the Oakland Exposition Building.

The entry is the creation of 21-year-old James P. Inden of 588 Woodbine Drive, San Rafael, a member of the Marin Coupe and Roadster Club, according to show manager Al Slonaker.

More than 125 glamorous custom cars, fantastic hot rods, fabulous sports cars and new experimental models will be displayed during the hugh Oakland show's 10-day run.

Custom features on the San Rafael entry—based on a 1953 Ford convertible—include frenched and peaked headlights, 1956 Packard taillights with side scoops, a hand-made tube grille, reversed chrome wheels and Lake plugs set into the body.

The sleek vehicle, powered by a chromed Corvette engine, has a luxury interior finished in blue and white pleated naugahyde upholstery, set off by white rugs.

It was featured in last month's issue of Hot Rod Magazine.

All vehicles entered in the Oakland show must be the personalized "dream cars" of their owners to win display space in the event, which features many "glamour cars" from Hollywood.

During the show's 10-day run, exhibitors compete in 28 classifications for 68 major awards headed by a $5,000, nine-foot loving cup, said to be the world's largest trophy.

Show doors will be open from 6 to 10 p.m. on weekdays and from 1 to 10 p.m. on Saturdays, Sundays and Feb. 22, George Washington's Birthday, Slonaker added.

Circular pattern identifies deposits scraped from combustion chamber. It tells researchers many secrets. To get this pattern, deposits are ground up and placed above a film. Electrons are beamed directly at the deposits. The beam is diffracted—scattered at precise and characteristic angles. This registers as the pattern of dots shown above. Reading this photograph, Shell scientists learn composition of deposits, determine how to neutralize them.

BULLETIN:

Weird electron "pictures" help Shell scientists develop improved TCP for today's Super Shell

—to give your car top performance

Read how electron diffraction revealed the inner secrets of the combustion deposits in your car's engine. How improved TCP was developed to neutralize these deposits, prolong spark-plug life, increase mileage—and release up to 15% more power.

Here's the full story of today's Super Shell—and the 9 ingredients that give your car top performance.

THE TCP in today's Super Shell does its job better than ever. It neutralizes certain harmful effects of combustion deposits—deposits that can prevent you from ever knowing your engine's top performance.

There's not a single engine with more than a few thousand miles on it that doesn't have this type of deposit in its combustion chambers. These deposits can cause real trouble when you need power most.

They glow red-hot and set off the fuel before the spark plug has a chance to get into the act.

The experts call this pre-ignition. The explosion punches the piston on the way up. Two forces meet head-on. No wonder your power falls off.

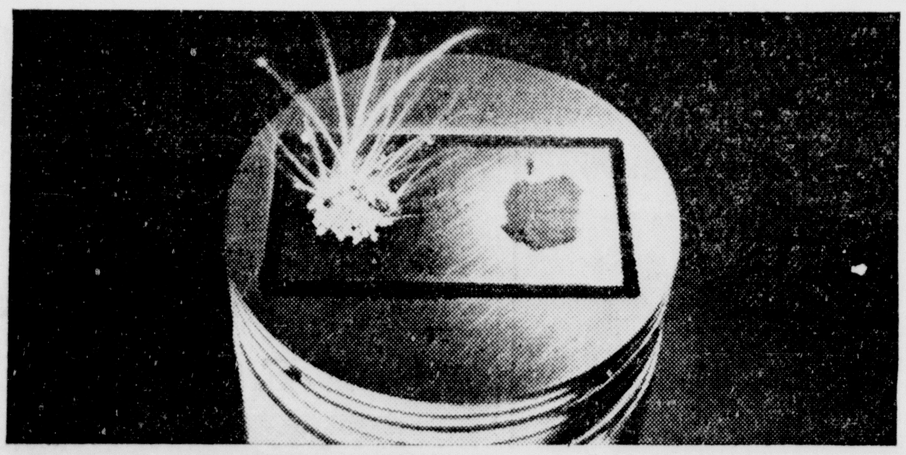
Deposits can also cramp your car's performance by short-circuiting the spark. What happens? No firing—you get a miss.

Problem: How to add something to gasoline that neutralizes the effects of deposits. Answer: Shell Research.

A scientific detective story

Shell scientists announced the first TCP* additive eight years ago, after research had proved it could virtually end this misfire problem once and for all. TCP was hailed as the greatest advance in gasoline in thirty-one years. Now Shell has improved it.

Scientific detectives like the electron "photograph" (above) made new, improved TCP possible. They helped Shell scientists to look engine deposits right in the face. And to find how best to neutralize them.



Test proves how TCP neutralizes glowing deposits. The electrically heated piston, above, has been sprinkled with two kinds of engine deposit. The glowing deposit, at left, had not been neutralized with TCP. The deposit on the right had. With TCP in action, there is no trace of glow.

What today's TCP can do

Tests have already proved that TCP can help you get up to 15 per cent more power, up to 17 more miles per tankful. And it can make plugs last up to twice as long.

Yet TCP is only one of nine ingredients in today's Super Shell. Read about the others. And how each helps your car deliver its top performance.

Ingredient #2 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power with a purr

This is petroleum that has actually cracked under 900-degree heat and catalytic action. Its heavier molecules have been shattered into livelier, lighter ones.

The result is a super-octane ingredient that makes your engine purr with power the moment you put your foot down.

NOTE: "Cat-cracking" refers to the use of a catalyst—the mysterious substance that can alter molecules without changing itself.

Ingredient #3 is Alkylate, noted for knock control in hot engines

Jimmy Doolittle helped pioneer this outstanding high-octane ingredient for Shell aviation fuel.

Alkylate—the ingredient that took the dream of 100-octane gasoline out of the lab and put it into the skies—is now in Super Shell. It controls knocking in hot engines at high speeds better than anything else yet available.

NOTE: Speaking of controlling knocks at high speeds, remember that car engines frequently turn even faster than the engines of a DC-7. Think of this next time you pass another car.

Ingredient #4 is anti-knock mix for extra resistance to knocks

You might think that two high-octane ingredients are enough for knock-free performance. But Shell's scientists have keen ears.

They insist on adding a special anti-knock mix. A mix so effective that one teaspoon per gallon can boost anti-knock rating by five points.

This mix has the tricky job of regulating combustion so that Super Shell gives each piston a firm, even push—rather than a sharp blow which would cause a knock.

Ingredient #5 is Butane for quick starts on cold mornings

Butane is so eager to get going that Shell keeps it under pressure 400 feet below ground to stop it from vaporizing by itself. Think what this extra volatility means in cold weather. Your engine fires in seconds. There is less strain on your battery. And none on your patience.

NOTE: Super Shell is primed with Butane all year round. In winter, Shell scientists simply increase the quick-start dose.

Ingredient #6 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups on cold days

Pentanes are made by tearing gasoline apart, much as you split kindling to start a log fire.

In this case, the "logs" are petroleum's heavier hydrocarbons. A special process transforms their molecules from slow-burning "logs" into the quicker-firing "kindling."

NET RESULT: Fast warm-up and top performance in a hurry.

Ingredient #7 is an "anti-icer" to check cold-weather stalling

Super Shell's formula is adjusted as often as eight times a year to beat the weather. For example, whenever the temperature is likely to be less than forty-five degrees, a carburetor anti-icer is added.

Why add anti-icer at forty-five degrees? Because, even then, frost can form in your carburetor just as it does in your refrigerator. It can choke your engine dead.

Ingredient #8 is gum preventive to keep carburetors clean inside

Even the purest gasoline can form gum when stored. This can clog carburetors and foul automatic chokes. But, with Super Shell, you needn't worry. A special gum preventive does the trick.

It acts like a policeman controlling a mob. Regulates unstable elements to help keep them from clotting. Hence no gum problem.

Ingredient #9 is Platformate for extra energy, more mileage

It takes eight million dollars' worth of platinum catalyst for Shell to produce Platformate. But fortunately for you and for us, this precious stuff can be used over and over again.

The platinum re-forming process, which gives Platformate its odd name, converts petroleum into super-energy components—such as benzene, xylene and toluene.

These three alone release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane gasoline.

But make no mistake. This is not untamed energy. Far from it. The super-energy of Platformate is harnessed by the eight other ingredients in Super Shell, where it behaves so well you scarcely know it's there. That is until you note your extra mileage. After that, there is no doubt.

Test Super Shell for yourself

Try Super Shell next time you fill up. You'll soon feel and hear a difference in the way your engine runs.

That difference is top performance.

Girl Scouts Plan Long Range Program Of Development

The Marin Girl Scouts' "Plan-For-The-Sixties" has completed a successful first year with the acquisition of Arequipa and contributions totaling $27,275.-52 during 1960, according to an announcement this week by Mrs. Harold Green, council president.

The first phase of the development program will be financed by these contributions from the entire board of directors of the Girl Scouts, some committees, philanthropic foundations and individuals. The largest single gift was $13,000 from the Arequipa Foundation, specifically designated for the construction of a swimming pool on the Arequipa property in Fairfax.

The long-range development program to meet ten year capital needs for a membership expected to reach 5,500 by 1970, will require about $220,-000. Major goals include construction at Arequipa and the 100-acre Treasure Mountain camp in the Sierra.

Top priority plans for '61 include changing Arequipa from a sanatorium to a scouting center and doubling the capacity of Treasure Mountain which accomodated 300 girls last year. Improvements completed last year at the Sierra camp with the aid of volunteers included the establishment of a complete water system and the construction of a kitchen and latrines. When fully developed, Treasure Mountain will be available for winter as well as summer use.

The Ten-Year-Program for development has received the approval of the United Crusade which supplies the council's operating funds, supplemented by the sale of cookies and calendars by the Girl Scouts themselves. Next month, scouting families and friends will be asked to help with these projects.

Ann Mariani Wed To Frederick Sollom

White chrysanthemums decorated St. Raphael's Church for the recent wedding of Ann Jane Mariani and Frederick Oliver Sollom. Rev. Richard Knapp officiated at the nuptial mass and double ring ceremony at high noon. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mariani of San Rafael, was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of white silk taffeta had a chapel length train. The skirt was bouffant and the fitted bodice was long sleeved. A coronet of pearls held the bride's veil and she carried lilies of the valley and white orchids.

The bride's three attendants wore periwinkle blue dresses designed with bell shaped skirts. Their veils matched their gowns and tangerine carnations were in their bouquets. Mrs. Theodore Graupner Jr. was matron of honor and Misses Mary Oliva and Margaret Murray were bridesmaids. The 3-year-old flower girl, Maureen Zimmerman, was also frocked in periwinkel blue and she carried a basket filled with tangerine colored flowers.

The wedding reception took place at 1 p.m. at Star Hall in San Anselmo where white carnations predominated in the decorations.

When the young couple left on a honeymoon trip of undisclosed destination the new Mrs. Sollom was wearing a gray suit with black accessories. Pinned to her jacket were white orchids.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cuthbert Oliver Sollom of Belvedere, is with Tamalpais Motor Sales in Mill Valley. Both he and his bride are graduates of Marin Catholic High School. The bride, who has two brothers, Joseph and Larry Mariani, has one sister, Mrs. George Mchling. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Dan Slavin.

The new benedict has one sister, Mrs. James Kretchmer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mariani wore a green lace gown with matching accessories. Her flowers were brown orchids. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a champagne silk suit and green orchids were in her corsage.

Furniture Designed For Living In Small Apartment Rooms

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO, (UPI)—Good things come in small packages . . . or so it seems from the well-designed apartment-sized furniture at the International Home Furnishings Market.

Lightly-scaled seating pieces for the apartment living room, designed by Lawrence Peabody, include a sofa, just 80 inches long, with a high-molded pack; a pull-up chair with caned back and upholstered seat; and an open-arm chair with upholstered back and seat. The curve of the latter chair's open arms is reminiscent of the French regence period.

An even more compact Peabody all-upholstered chair, shaped to curl up in, has a fan-shaped back and curved sides.

A round mirror in the collection has a two-inch molded frame that lends dimension to a narrow foyer or small room. (Peabody designs by Richardson-Nemschoff, Inc.)

The 80-inch Peabody-designed sofa is typical of the short sofas so popular at the market. One manufacturere of upholstered furniture offers short sofas in seven new styles, running the gamut from strictly traditional to far-out-contemporary. The new short sofas have all the fashion details of standard-size ones: ruching, valance-framed, knife-pleat flounces, buttons, bows and decorative borders. They're designed for use in pairs at right angles or on either side of a coffee table as well as singly in small rooms. (Short sofas by Tomlinson.)

Another manufacturer of popular-priced furniture has come up with a coordinated group of apartment-sized upholstered pieces. The ultra-slim lines of the group were made posssible by a new construction technique eliminating the need for springs. Called foam-on-foam, the technique substitues 6½ inces of foam, in layers, for springs, to provide the "sink-in softness" of down cushioning. Yet, because of the group's slim lines, its 71-inch sofa seats three comfortably.

The group also includes a high-back lounge chair and a small, armless hostess chair, all contemporary in design. It's available in a new nylon upholstery fabric that looks like silk shantung, but has all the durability and cleanability of nylon. ("Town Life" apartment group by Valentine Seaver Division of Kroehler.)

Smartest of the apartment-sized dining tables is a contemporary Danish import, in oilfinished teak. The boat shaped table closes to a compact 48 inches by 32 inches; opens to a length of 86 inches to seat 10. It comes with matching chairs. (Teak dining set imported by Otto Gerdau Co.)

For the apartment bedroom, there are Italian and Danish-style furnishings with slim lines and added tuckaway space inside sliding bookcase-headboards and cupboard-type chests. Single bachelor chests in the group are designed for use with decks of shelves on top, if floor space is limited. (Italian and Danish bedrooms by David M. Lea.)

This is an informal group, organized to assist its parent lodge and any member is welcome to attend.

California GOP Women Map Program And Elect New Officers

First official act of the new president of the California Federation of Republican Women, Mrs. Merritt R. Hosmer of San Carlos who was elected at the conclusion of the biennial convention held at the Jack Tar hotel in San Francisco, was the appointment of leading Federation women who are outstanding in the other Republican organizations in California to a new committee of coordination and cooperation.

In taking office, Mrs. Hosmer announced that composition of this new committee termed the "Double C" will provide cooperation within the northern, southern, and central division of the state Federation, the Republican State Central Committee and other G.O.P. volunteer groups. Plans call for the group to convene prior to all California Federation of Republican Women's state board meetings to stimulate coordination between important G.O.P. councils in the coming election year.

The convention was attended by a number of members of Marin Federation of Republican Women, headed by Mrs. Matt A. Graham, president. With her were Mesdames Robert Alderman, J. Wilson Triplets Bring Fame To San Rafael's Job's Daughters

Honor and fame has come to Bethel 48 of the International Order of Job's Daughters, San Rafael, in the persons of the triplets, Helen, Dorothy and Joan Wilson. San Rafael's bethel has the distinction of being the first bethel in the world to have triplets hold, in the same term of office, the three highest elective posts, those of honored queen, senior princess and junior princess.

The 18-year-old triplets, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Wilson of Greenbrae, were graduated from Redwood High School last June. All three are continuing their studies at College of Marin where each has selected a different field of endeavor: Joan, art; Dorothy, home economics; Helen, pre-law. At their installations the triplets have shared honors with an older sister, Jeannette Wilson Durfee, a majority member of San Francisco Bethel No. 107, who acted as daughter hostess. On Jan. 14, Helen stepped down from her duties as honored queen leaving in her stead sister Dorothy, who in turn will hand the gavel to sister Joan new junior princess in June. The popular girls have not only brought the unique distinction to Bethel No. 48, but have also added much charm and dignity to the organization.

Lamb Riblets Are Given A Tropical Flavor

Here's something different in meat dishes that's designed for cold day enjoyment . . . Tropical Lamb Riblets.

Lamb riblets may either be braised or cooked in liquid. In this recipe they are braised. The exotic cooking liquid with pineapple and lemon juices, molasses and soy sauce does give the riblets a tropical air.

After cooking, the lamb mixture is thickened with cornstarch. This dish is delicious served on white rice or Chinese noodles.

Tropical Lamb Riblets

3 pounds lamb riblets
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
½ cup chopped onion
1½ cups diced celery
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups pineapple juice
½ cup water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon bead molasses
3 tablespoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons cornstarch
3 tablespoons water

Brown the lamb riblets in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add onion, celery, salt, pepper, pineapple juice, ½ cup water, lemon juice, molasses and soy sauce. Cover tightly and simmer 1½ hours or until tender. Mix cornstarch with 3 tablespoons of water. Add cornstarch mixture to riblets and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. 4 to 6 servings.

Easy Pudding Sauce

It's as simple as 1-2-3. Boil the syrup from a can of fruit cocktail with a little candied ginger until reduced to about ½ cup. Stir in a dash of lemon juice, add the fruit and heat through. Serve over yesterday's cake or pudding.

Start Preparing Children Now If You Want Scholarships For Them

College scholarships are hard to get. The competition is fierce.

Will your children need scholarships to go to college? Then start preparing now.

Here are some practical suggestions:

Grades matter most for the majority of scholarships. Your youngsters will need almost straight "A" averages, grades nine through 12. Help them get the "As" by encouraging them to stay with teachers who grade easily.

Help them cram for exams. Be sure they do their homework on time.

Be wary of "honors," "advanced," or "accelerated" high school courses. Usually it is harder to earn "As" in these than in regular classes. And honor grades don't count any more than regular grades, at most colleges.

I don't like this emphasis on grades. I'd rather have kids try to learn something, with grades coming along incidentally. Probably you would too, but most scholarships aren't given that way, so you'd better be realistic.

Be sure your children take the right high school courses. Different scholarships have different requirements. Get them to pick their particular scholarships early, and work toward them. The school counselors will help.

Many scholarships require extracurricular activities, too. So encourage your youngsters to take part in student body affairs. But not to the extent of hurting their grade averages.

What I say today applies to nearly all young people. It doesn't apply to star high school athletes. If your son is on the all-state football team, you've no worries. He'll get a scholarship, even if he's mentally retarded.

READERS' FORUM

(Q)—"Our school has a scholarship counselor. She helps students earn college scholarships. Can we rely on her advice?"

—B.R.

(A)—Yes, indeed. Many well led high schools now have scholarship counselors. They keep up-to-date on opportunities and requirements. Be sure to talk with her.

Man Accused Of Violating Probation

Cecil C. Sellers, 47, of Mill Valley must appear in court April 24 to answer a charge of violating probation because his estranged wife asserted he threatened her life.

The April 24 date was set yesterday after Sellers' arrest Friday at his home at 34 Sunnyside Avenue, Mill Valley. He was released from jail on his own recognizance.

His wife, Mary J. Sellers of 1108 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, told San Anselmo police her husband visited her Wednesday. On learning she had lent the family car to a friend, he became angry and threatened her life, reminding her of the Jan. 21 stabbing in Mill Valley by Luis S. Aldeguer, she said.

Mrs. Sellers has filed for divorce.

Sellers was on probation for molesting his wife's 9-year-old daughter by a previous marriage in September, 1959.

Holstein Breeders Win High Ratings

Animals belonging to Marvin L. Nunes of Point Reyes and George Nunes and Toma A. Nunes Jr., both of San Rafael were cited. The ratings ranged from excellent to good.

Novato Students Plan Snow Trips

Novato High School students will head into the snow country this weekend and next for skiing and other winter sports.

Twenty-five students in the Ski Club will leave at 5 a.m. Saturday and return that night by bus from the Powder Basin area. The club, led by teacher Benjamin Hicks, is not officially affiliated with the school but composed of students.

A Pep Club couting, with three buses and 107 students plus instructors, will head for Squaw Valley at 4 a.m. Feb. 11, returning that night.

19 Marinites To Attend Y Legislature

Sixteen Marin County youths and three adult advisers will participate in the YMCA's model legislature in Sacramento Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Leading the delegation will be Terry Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wade of Greenbrae. He will preside over the entire youth in government program as state governor, a post to which he was elected last month.

"Governor" Wade, a senior at Redwood High School, will address the opening session of the legislature Friday morning. He will be followed to the rostrum by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who also will address the delegates.

Others attending the session from Marin County will be "Senator" James Abrams, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Abrams of Larkspur; "Assemblyman" Terrie Worth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Worth of Larkspur; Cathy Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill of San Rafael; Bud Weckel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Weckel of Larkspur; Bill Nickolson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Nickolson of Kentfield and Kathi Cazassa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cazassa of San Rafael.

In addition to this group, 10 others will be going as legislative advocates, legislative aides and reporters. They are Carol Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jensen of Novato; Jos Boothby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Boothby of San Anselmo; Linda Brigham of San Rafael; Dianne Roman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albin Roman of San Rafael; Mike Rhoades, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Rhoades of San Rafael; Ken Oleari, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Oleari of San Rafael; Herb Magruder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Magruder of Kentfield; Margli Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cook of San Anselmo, and Alan Wulzen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wulzen of Greenbrae.

Adults accompaning the group will be Don Porter, YMCA staff member; Mary Jean Barley, girls work supervisor, and Betts Porter, club adviser.

Assigned To Squadron

S/Sgt. Jack O. Chadwick, 1951 graduate of San Rafael High School, serving with the 1902nd Airways and Air Communications Service Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, has been reassigned to the 641st Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron, Labrador.

Generators Unit Permit Is Requested

An application for a permit to set up silver iodide generators in Marin County to combat hailstorms was made last week to the State Department of Water Resources.

Applying for the permit was the Water Resources Development Corp. in Denver, Colo., which operates the anti-hail program for the Placer County Farm Labor Cooperative in Loomis. The program has been in operation each year for the past 10 years.

The generators, on the ground and airborne, sent out particles of silver iodide which attach themselves to clouds in the upper stratosphere. The actiton warms the atmosphere so that hailstones, passing through the cloud strata, are reduced to water.

The fight against hail is primarily directed at an area of about 25 miles square in Placer and El Dorado Counties where pears, plums and peaches are the major crops. If the young fruit is pelted by the hailstones, the fruit reaches maturity with blemishes, making it unfit for marketing as Grade A fruit.

Although hail is not a major threat to Marin, atmospheric conditions require the stratosphere to be seeded with the silver iodide far beyond the target area.

Precision Drill Team Forming At Hamilton

A precision drill team of 27 men is being formed at Hamilton Air Force Base under S/Sgt. Philip H. Moon of the 78th Air Police Squadron.

The team will form the nucleus for an honor guard, color guard and exhibition team. Moon has led teams composed of Boy Scouts, drum and bugle corps members and all-girl teams. He won an award from the Hutchinson, Kan., Chamber of Commerce for his work in that community.

NOB HILL MANAGER — Leonard F. Aregger, assistant vice president of First Western Bank and Trust Co., has been appointed manager of the bank's Nob Hill office in the Fairmont Hotel. He is a native of Fairfax and now resides with his wife, Elinor, and one of his sons, Richard, at 55 Corte Madera, Greenbrae. Another son, Daniel, is serving with the Air Force at Thule, Greenland.

Marin City To Get More Face-Lifting

The Marin City Tenants Council has won a promise of some face-lifting for Marin City's wartime housing, even though it is slated to be demolished during the redevelopment program, Hardy Westmore of the tenants council reported today.

Agreement to several requests of the council was votced by Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, at a meeting with council representatives Friday.

The council was promised the following:

1. Some of the land around the wartime apartments will be filled to avoid standing water.

2. Fuel rations have been increased during the cold weather.

3. Additional lights will be provided in areas where needed.

4. Fronts of the old apartments will be painted.

5. Persons in Marin City will be given priority placements in new low rent housing.

6. Play areas are to be developed when the rainy season ends.

7. Steps were promised to provide better television reception.

Started Saving String Now Has 25 Pounds

NOKOMIS, Ill. (AP)—Jim Tosetti, a post office employee, started saving twine for years ago and estimates he now has about seven miles wrapped in a ball weighing more than 53 pounds.

Tosetti says he is often asked what he plans to do with the string. "I usually say that when I retire I'm going to start unrolling it at the Post Office and live at the point where the string runs out."

Planners To See Maps Of Two Subdivisions

Two tentative maps of subdivisions south of Novato and north of Tiburon will be considered by the Marin County Planning Commission at its sessions next Monday at 1711 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

Five acres north of Country Club Drive in the Ignacio area are to be developed by H. T. and M. L. Mitchell, comprising eight lots for single-family dwellings involving construction of one 24-foot-wide street.

Mattei Development Co. and Lomas Corp. wish to develop 10 acres north of Mar West Street west of the Southern Marin Recreation Center on the Tiburon Peninsula.

Nineteen lots will be used for apartments, all lots with minimum of 10,000 square feet. One new street will be provided.

The first industry established by European settlers in America was logging.
